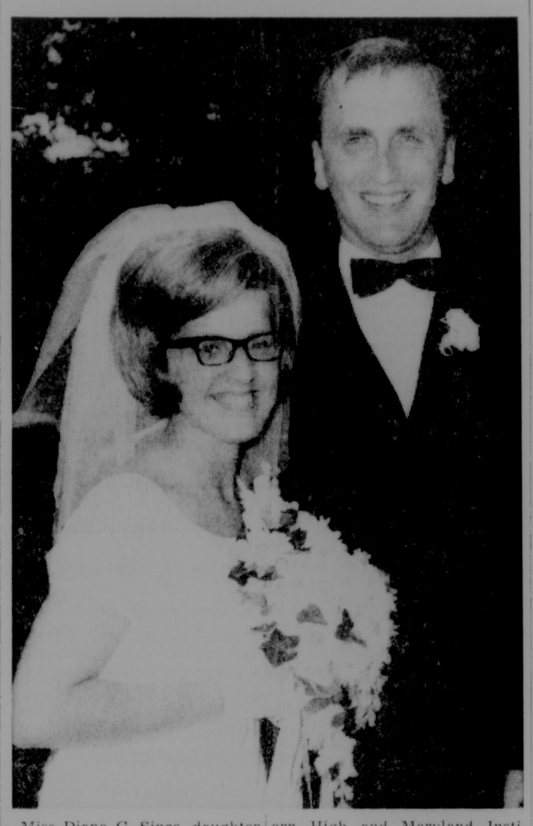
Wed At Friendsville



Miss Diana C. Sines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. W. Sines, Friendsville and Dr. Paul E. Bursey, son of Mrs. Jean Bursey, Cambridge, Mass., and the late Gordon Bursey, were married Saturday, July 1, in Friendsville Methodist church. A honeymoon trip was taken to Bedford Springs.

The bride, graduate of Northern High and Maryland Institute, College of Art, Baltimore, will continue her second year of teaching in Beltsville. Dr. Bursey, graduate of the University of Maryland Dental school, is teaching at the University of Maryland medical school in Baltimore.

Returns From Convention

Mrs. Phyllis Trickett, of Oakland, immediate past president of the Maryland Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, returned to her home last Friday from New York where she had been attending the 33rd national convention.

Some, 2,500 members gathered to conduct business, elect new officers, adopt a legislative platform, present awards and participate in a round of sessions and special events.

Mrs. Charlotte Martz, present president of the Maryland group, also attended.

U. S. Forces in Viet were to be increased by 100,000 men.

Seeks to Restore Tax Deduction

Governor Agnew announced this week he would recommend legislation next January to restore the $1,200 special retirement income deduction previously allowed retired Federal employees and certain others on State Income Tax.

The correction can be made through an emergency bill, he said, permitting the deduction to be restored before 1967 income tax returns are due on April 15. It will be made effective for the full year of 1967.

Governor Agnew said the deduction was inadvertently omitted in the drafting of tax reform legislation this year which conformed the State to the Federal income tax base. It was brought to the Governor's attention through letters from retired Federal employees.

The special deduction had been authorized by the 1965 General Assembly for those retired persons who did not receive Social Security benefits. It primarily benefited retired Federal employees.

The Federal government provides a special income tax credit in recognition that an inequity exists between such employees and State, Municipal and private employees who receive Social Security benefits in addition to their other annuities.

"The purpose of this special $1,200 deduction was to give equal treatment to retired persons regardless of whether they receive Social Security benefits", Governor Agnew said.

"It was never the intention of the Legislature or of the Administration that it be removed and I will be happy to recommend emergency legislation to restore it".

He said the cost to the State will be approximately $75,000 a year.

Jane Mansfield left an estate of $800,000.

CARD OF THANKS

Md. U. Conference Draws Four-H'ers

An educational happening drew 400 teenagers to the University of Maryland's College Park campus on Aug. 1.

Here, 14-to-19-year-old boys and girls from the Free State, Delaware and West Virginia are involved in the second annual Maryland 4-H Conference.

The visions of a modern-day prophet, Vietnamese life, the validity of unidentified flying objects, and advice from a former Miss America are featured topics during the four-day program.

The Conference planners established the theme, "Cast Your Fate to the Wind" because they want to "become aware of the uncertainties that challenge youth in order to cope with them effectively".

They also hope to "develop, appreciate, and understand" themselves through participation in educational, social and cultural activities.

Keynote speaker was Jeane L. Dixon, author of "A Gift of rophecy", who described her "visions" on Tuesday afternoon. That night, Captain William Spies reported on family life in South Vietnam.

Wednesday Marilyn Van Derbur, a former Miss America who is now United Air Lines youth speaker, outlined goals and dreams for this nation's teen-age generation.

Are unidentified flying objects from outer space? Stuart Nixon of the National Investigations Committee on Aerial Phenomena tackled this question on Wednesday and Thursday afternons.

"Narcotics-Pit of Despair" and "Confidence for Leadership" are other divergent topics on Thursday.

The youths will also divide into interest sessions to study art appreciation, theater, music, photography, modeling, entomology, and outomobile safety.

On Friday morning, the 4-H'ers will tour seven colleges on the campus before hearing closing remarks from Dr. Frank Bentz, vice president for agricultural affairs, University of Maryland.

Four-H members from Garrett County who are attending the Conference are Jane Gibson, Bonnie Buckel, Debbie DeWitt, Joyce Harman, Regina Sanders, Rodney Glotfelty, Robert Hesson, Ann Feaster, Edwin Friend, Sherry Frantz and Stanley Wildesen.

Also attending as adult counselors from Garrett County are Miss Helen E. Morgan, Extension Agent Trainee in Garrett County this summer, and Mrs. William Harman, local leader of the North Star 4-H Club in Accident.

Cooperative Elects

James Glotfelty and Raymond Klotz of Accident were elected to the local Southern States Advisory Board at the annual membership meeting held in Accident on July 27. Over 90 stockholder-members and their families attended.

Robert O. Glotfelty of Accident was named chairman of the Advisory Board while Oren Bender of Accident was picked as vice-chairman.

Elected to the local Farm Home Advisory Committee were: Mrs. Henry Glass and Mrs. Paul Miller of Accident.

Mrs. Walter Margroff of Accident was chosen chairman of Committee while Mrs. Walter Hanft of Accident was named secretary.

Robert Buckel of Swanton was chosen as a delegate to the 44th Annual Stockholders Meeting in Louisville, Kentucky on October 31 and November 1. Guy Broadwater of Accident was named alternate.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the financial report of the Cooperative given by David Nuzum of Fairmont, W. Va., a regional representative. According to the report, the cooperative will pay a 3% patronage refund to its farmer-members this year— the largest refund it has paid in 10 years. Total volume for the year ended June 30, was over $113,000,000, up about 5% over the previous year.

Wayne Fratz, manager of W. H. Fratz, Inc., gave the report on local operations and services, and showed color slides of local patrons' farming activities.

Schroyer Reunion Set

The Schroyer reunion will be held at the home of Miss Mae Schroyer, Accident, on August 27, with a basket dinner at 1 o'clock.

The Schroyer home is located on the Oak Hill road.

Bishoff-DeWitt Nuptials Held

Miss Joyce Agnes DeWitt became the bride of George Edwin Bishoff on Sunday, July 9. The double ring ceremony was performed by Reverend Donald E. Matthews at the Hoyes Methodist church.

Mrs. Betty Savage, McHenry, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Gloria Savage, Frederick, who sang O Promise Me and Whither Thou Goest.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. DeWitt of McHenry. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Emerson Bishoff, near Hoyes.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza. The fitted lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline enhanced with seed pearls and had long tapered sleeves. The very full hoop skirt was accented by a scissor pleat front. The back of the gown was highlighted by a detachable Watteau train with lace motif repeated. Her bouffant veil of English illusion fell from a silk organza wedding ring with seed pearl and lace trim. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Sharon Rush, Friendsville was maid of honor, and Miss Janice DeWitt, sister of the bride and Miss Sharon Bishoff, niece of the groom, served as bridemaids. All attendants were attired in light green floor length gowns with fitted bodice and bell shaped skirts. They carried bouquets of pompon and yellow pompon daisies.

Miss Susie Bishoff, niece of the groom was flower girl and wore a pink full length dress accented with white lace trim.

John Bishoff, brother of the groom served as best man, and James Wilburn, Grantsville, and Byron Fike, Wadsworth, Ohio, ushered the guests.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church basement. Mrs. Martha Bishoff, sister-in-law of the groom cut and served the wedding cake, and Mrs. Mildred Cuppett, aunt of the bride, assisted. Mrs. Faye Livingood, cousin of the bride served punch. Miss Linda DeWitt, sister of the bride registered guests.

The bride choose a pink and white coat and dress ensemble with white accessories for her traveling outfit. The bride and groom left immediately after the reception for a wedding trip to Canada and Niagara Falls.

The bride is a graduate of Northern High School and is now employed by the First National Bank. The groom is in partnership with his father on their farm near Hoyes.

Smell of Hickory

It was a perfect vacation day, with the whole of the countryside waiting for some exploring. My companion was a retired miner who had spent more than a half century in Garrett County, but who knew many things that only plain country living could tell him.

This year, both the laurel and rhododendren were budding simultaneously beside the road to Big Run, which was shaded in many places by either the height of trees or the pervailing cooler drafts which a forest deflates to the fortunate wayside traveler. It was such a short jaunt to an old portion of bridge, and then the joy of woodlands began, as we walked and watched for the old roadbed and the junction with Monroe Run. Freshly informed from reading a new botany text, I pointed out the weeds and shrubs I knew, exclaiming at the leaf structures and comparing them with types just studied. And then I stooped to see a slender-leaved sapling with dark bark, asking, "What is this?" and came the immediate reply, "Smell it. You can always tell if you know that smell. It's hickory. Don't need to look at the leaves". After this comment, which held real knowledge, I spent the rest of our journey in concentrated listening.

A wise friend, after hearing this tale, reflected that people are so often labeled ignorant, when they are certainly lacking only in academic education, not knowledge. Is is we who communicate with them who are at fault if we do not acclimate ourselves to reach some common ground with them in their own level of culture.

Perhaps herein lies the aspect which workers must remember in conducting so-called poverty programs. Poverty, indeed; The mountain man who picks berries, hunts for game as meat, and has a lovely patch of vegetables, whether they are termed taters or potatoes, must feel a specific pity for some of the progressives who try to teach him better ways of living. They seem to be confusing the castle with the stable, two different strata. When they do not see that his self-reliance and free living are his trademarks, without which his self-respect vanishes, they have not yet gained understanding of the person they address.

It is his genuine democracy, be he miner, cotton farmer, or tenant worker, that he be treated with dignity as his own type of person. The farmer who offers to let his children guide you into his swamp to see the plants, the busy lady who offers you a taste of her new jelly—and means it—, and the kindly man who stops by to assure you that your new Garrett County property will be accessible during snows, are accepting you in the finest way they know. When we are the blind ones, we cannot expect to be invited back to talk again, or to see the house, or to look for sang by the old stream.

One great American playwright terms the common persons of our melting pot as "the people with light coming out of them". Surely each has his own light, to be recognized behind a drawl, a sullen look, or even a dirty checkered shirt.

No. 5606 Equity in The Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 27th day of July, 1967, a bill of Complaint was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, by Douglas L. Schenk, Plaintiff, by his attorney, Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., against Mary Sandra Schenk, Defendant, whose last known address is 531 East Bellefonte Avenue, Alexandria, Va., for a Divorce A Vinculo Matrimonii. The Bill of Complaint alleges in substance that the parties were married on June 22, 1962, in Oakland, Maryland, and had one child born unto them, namely, Theresa Ellen Schenk, on November 30, 1962, and another child born unto the Plaintiff, namely Caren Ann Schenk, at Alexandria, Virginia, on February 23, 1966. That both parties are adults and that the Plaintiff is a resident of Garrett County, Maryland, for more than one year prior to the institution of this suit. The Bill of Complaint further alleges that Mary Sandra Schenk, deserted and abandoned her husband on January 19th, 1966, with the intention to live with him no longer and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for a period of eighteen months duration. The Bill of Complaint asks for a Divorce Decree A Vinculo Matrimonii from the Defendant, Mary Sandra Schenk.

WHEREUPON it is ordered by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, this 27th day of July, 1967, that the Plaintiff causes a copy of this order to be inserted in a Newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week in each of four successive weeks, before the 25th day of August, 1967, giving notice to the said Non-Resident Defendant of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning her to show cause, if any she may have on or before the 25th day of September, 1967, why a Decree for Divorce should not be passed as prayed.

Accomplishments of the Civil Defense program in Maryland during the past five years were pointed out in a newsletter of the agency issued by Rinaldo VanBrunt, the director.

It has been nearly five years since the Cuban missile crisis when public demand for effective Civil Defense actions and information reached a peak.

The national civil defense program director stated that 155 million shelter spaces had been located in existing buildings, survival supplies stocked to sustain 74 million people for eight days in shelter, more than 1,200 warning points established, 59,000 radiological monitoring stations in operation, 2,800 emergency operating centers in being or in process of preparation.

The Maryland director pointed out that the state program stands at or a little above the national average.

THUMB SUCKING IS NORMAL FOR INFANTS

Their thumbs are always handier than a nipple or pacifier and helps them not to be irritable when wet or tired. They take the place of continuous petting. There are no apparent problems caused by infant thumb sucking.

After youngsters are older than two years and certainly when they become four or five years old, your pediatrician should be consulted if thumb sucking persists. It can not only be an embarrassment, but actually change the shape of a child's mouth. Your pediatrician can suggest one of the preventives we carry against thumb sucking.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 91. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., AUGUST 10, 1967 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 24.

Vietnam: Goal and Cost

Former Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee James P. Richards said recently we are now paying too high a price for what can be achieved in Vietnam. Noting rising casualty figures, Richards said what might—and only might—be achieved is no longer worth the price in American dead.

Richards was an Eisenhower foreign policy aide after retiring from Congress voluntarily, is a member of one of South Carolina's oldest, most distinguished families and is a veteran of World War I.

The question he raises is pertinent. Is the goal we seek in Vietnam worth the rising toll of U. S. fatalities —is it worth a major land war in Asia? Of course, we probably would not be committed in Vietnam today had anyone thought we would gradually be drawn into a struggle of the present magnitude.

On the other hand, we are committed. Can we afford to leave without what military leaders call victory? Will the Vietnamese retain the democracy we install? Will a coup throw out the democratic regime two months after we depart? Are the Vietnamese people ready for a democratic form of government?

These are the most important questions of the time. Richards believes prospects of what can be permanently attained are not good enough to warrant the rising cost in American lives.

His position deserves sober consideration.

Wounded in Viet

Specialist Fourth Class E-4 Alvy James Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther J. Alexander, of Crellin, has been wounded in action in Vietnam according to information received by his parents.

E-4 Alexander was struck in the left leg by flying shrapnel from a mortar shell, and is now recovering in a Vietnam hospital. His parents have received the Purple Heart medal and a citation which he received after being wounded.

He had previously received a medal for bravery, for action while on a combat mission. According to the military, his platoon had just started on a second sweep when it encountered heavy fire from the front, and in returning the fire several soldiers were wounded. With the assistance of a comrade, Travis M. Lankin, an automatic rifleman, Specialist Alexander held off the enemy until the wounded were picked up by helicopter.

E-4 Alexander has been in Vietnam since September 20, 1966. He is a graduate of Terra Alta High school, class of 1965.

Car Demolished; Youth Not Injured

A 16 year old youth escaped serious injury in an automobile accident yesterday, although his vehicle was completely demolished.

The accident occurred about 11:50 yesterday morning on the Oakland-Sang Run road, and involved Leon Werdebaugh.

According to Trooper Ronald Lewis, who investigated, Werdebaugh was proceeding north in the vicinity of Reams' store when he lost control, ran off the right side of the road, crossed to the left, ran through a wire fence, knocked over an apple tree, turned over and then struck a spring house.

He was taken to Garrett County Memorial hospital where he was examined and released. He has been charged with operating at a speed too great for road conditions.

Polling Place To Be Relocated

A change in one polling place was announced by the Board of Supervisors of Elections. District 7, now located in the lobby of the Court House, will be moved to the Knights of Pythias building on South Third, where the board office is located. This will be effective with the election on May 14, 1968, when voters will ballot on the proposed state constitution.

It was also announced that bids would be asked for transporting voting machines to polling places, instead of having this work done by the County Roads department. The contract will run from January 1, 1968, to January 1, 1972 with option to renew.

Board officials said a number of voters will be removed for not voting at least once at a primary, general or special election within five preceding calendar years. These voters will receive a notice of such action, it was pointed out.

Persons who are not registered may do so at the board office Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Dental Program Assists Head Start Children

During the past six weeks in the Dental department at the Garrett County Memorial hospital, a comprehensive Head Start Dental program has been in progress, the first program of its kind within Head Start.

A total of 137 children from Head Start centers at Accident, Center Street, Crellin, Friendsville, Grantsville, Loch Lynn and Route 40 have been screened. Mrs. Elaine Marple, dental hygienist, gave dental health talks in the classrooms, x-rayed each child's teeth, provided a prophylaxis, applied topical fluoride, and made a tentative diagnosis. Miss Connie Savage, student dental hygienist at West Virginia university, assisted.

Following the screening, appointments were made with dentists for those children needing urgent dental care. Time did not permit all children to see the dentist, but approximately 25 percent were completed.

Participating dentists included Dr. William Savage, Dr. Jack Liller, Dr. Robert Gibson, and Dr. Alvin Friend from the Oakland area; Dr. Jack Roth, Davis, W. Va., and Dr. John Cross, Meyersdale, Pa.

Head Start school personnel participating included Mrs. Phyllis H. Williams, supervisor; Mrs. Virginia Ryan, assistant supervisor, and Mrs. Marie Smith, aide.

14 Charged With Violations Of Liquor Laws

As a result of a series of investigations by the Maryland State Police, assisted by county law enforcement officers, a number of persons have been charged with various violations of the county's liquor laws. Most of the alleged infractions involve establishments along Route 40.

The charges are listed on the docket of Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney, but State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer said the cases would probably be presented to the September term of Circuit Court.

$24,600 Planetar'm Grant Approved

A federal "mini-grant" of $24,600 has been approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for the Planetarium and Science Center for the county, it was announced by Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of schools. This fund, he said, would pay the salary of the planetarium director, Paul Frank, and provide needed money to develop the space curriculum and purchase needed equipment.

The Planetarium center, in the old Oakland High school building, is near completion and will be one of the finest in the state, according to Hawkins. The public and civic groups will be invited to visit the center at certain times during the month of September.

Council's Business Is Strictly Routine

According to minutes, Monday's meeting of the Oakland Mayor and Council could hardly be called even routine.

Potential Industry Seeks Applicants

A prospective new industry, a major shoe manufacturer, considering Kingwood, the site for a new plant, is seeking potential employees.

Directors of the Preston Business Development Corporation and Kingwood Area Chamber of Commerce said the firm plans to establish a production facility there if an ample supply of labor is available.

Residents of Preston and surrounding counties including Garrett desiring employment are urged to participate in a labor survey to be held in the Community Building at Kingwood on August 17-19. All persons 18 years of age or older who may be available for employment are urged to register.

PBDC President Max Buric expressed the hope that at least 1,500 area residents will register and be interviewed. Applicants must appar in person, he added.

Experience will not be a factor in the labor survey, Buric explained, as the firm plans to conduct a training program for prospective employees.

The survey center will open at 2 p. m. on Tuesday and company representatives will interview applicants until 9 p. m. On Friday, interested persons may register between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. The registration will continue from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on Saturday.

"A substantial number must register in order to prove to the potential industry that the area is interested and can support a major employer", Buric said.

Welfare Dept. Participating In Summer Career Program

James R. Stanton, who will enter West Virginia University at Morgantown this September as a junior student, is employed in a summer career program with the Garrett County Welfare department. The program is being sponsored by the Health and Welfare Council of the Baltimore area and is basically set up to research the various services in the health and welfare field provide by 104 public and private agencies in Maryland.

In connection with this, they have realized the need to attract college students to this field, and for several years have selected a number of students to be placed in various agencies, doing a variety of jobs in order to give the student some idea of how a health and welfare agency functions.

The student employee becomes a member of the agency staff and performs assgned duties which are a part of the regular job. A job is not created for him in terms of setting up special assignments, but rather he supplements the regular staff, doing the same work other caseworkers do. In this way, he has a first hand experience with people and problems of the agency.

This year, 100 students from 54 colleges are participating and have been placed in 39 different agencies. They are working in hospitals, family agencies, welfare departments, children's institutions and recreation programs in the state.

In his local employment, Stanton is serving as child welfare worker and along with his regular duties the department has set up a summer schedule of field trips, camping, swimming, picnicking and family get-togethers. Often, there are several children from one family who cannot be placed together in one foster home, and opportunities to see each other are not always frequent. Part of Mr. Stanton's summer duty has been to arrange a day's outing for all the members of a particular family, to strengen family relationships. His background in sports and several years' experience as a life guard at Herrington Manor during summer vacations has provided foster children with an opportunity to learn to swim, to enjoy hiking and the general benefits of being together in the state parks and camping areas.

Part of his job has been to study the working of juvenile court, to learn how children are removed from their parents when neglect exists, and placed by the court in the welfare department's custody. He has assisted in placing these children in foster homes and has covered the county in his car bringing children to doctors and clinics at the County Health department. Before the summer is over, he will probably have taken children to the West Virginia University Medical Center at Morgantown as well as to Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore for treatment.

With this experience behind him, Mr. Stanton plans to work in the general field of the humanities and pursue his education in the area of psychology through to his doctor's degree.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Stanton, Oak street, Oakland.

Question

Are cigarette filters really doing the job the manufacturers are claiming for them?

Answer

Cigarette filters do slow down the intake of nicotine and tar, but they are a long way from stopping the inhaling of these dangerous substances. If, in the face of all official warnings, you're going to smoke cigarettes, there is one thing you can do which will make smoking them less dangerous. When smoking either regular or filter tip cigarettes always make certain that you smoke no more than half (½) of the cigarette. For your own sake, throw it away when you've smoked half (preferably less than half) of it. This is because up to that point the cigarette, itself, is actually acting as a "filter."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Thanks to a very small minority of young people, and to the general apathy of many of the responsible adult citizens of Garrett County, the Mt. Top Teen Center has closed. This seems to be one of the great tragedies of our times, for it is usually the trouble-makers who force the hand of persons who make every effort at keeping law and order. Is all of this necessary.

I think all responsible persons should ask themselves: "Have I neglected my duty as a citizen in my community?" "What part might I have played in providing a place where the youth of our area could gather for an evening of fun and relaxation?"

Two local service clubs—Rotary and Lions—went all out to assist Mr. and Mrs. Brad Rinard to open the Mt. Top Teen Center, in Oakland. As the weeks went by the center became more and more popular with the teenagers. Guidance and counsel were given to the Rinards as situations arose. Rules for guiding the young people in their conduct at the center were posted, and for the most part the directions given were followed. A number of adults have from time to time visited the center while it was in full operation.

Few weeks went by that the writer did not put in his appearance on Saturday nights, if only for a brief period. No one is more interested in such a project as this than the writer of this. I have on rare occasion seen a few persons asked to leave the premises because of unseemly conduct.

All young people with whom I have spoken these past few days since the center was closed, are quite vehement in their criticism of the handful of vandals who deliberately attempted to wreck not only the property, but the good clean program that was provided for them. No one but the lowest element of our teen society would possibly think of such drastic destruction.

The Mt. Top Teen Center must re-open, and soon. The parents of our youth must take a firm hand in helping to re-establish what has already proved its worth. The teenagers themselves must also take a firm stand in seeing that their own peers respect their property, and the rights of others. Are we of Garrett County—adult as well as youth—going to let a few unruly, irresponsible people rule and govern our way of life? We do not need radicals in our midst. Our law enforcement officers have ways of dealing with the criminal element.

I would be happy to hear any suggestions you might have to offer so that Mr. and Mrs. Rinard and possibly others might re-open this valuable asset to our community. If this is going to happen on a small scale, what is going to take place when the time comes for us to have a Community Center to ward which many of us are working? Speak out now, for the time may be too late

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Grace Miller, who passed away four years ago, August 12, 1963.
Sad and sudden was the call,
Of one we all loved, but could not save.
A bitter grief, shock for one so dear.
To think she could not say goodby.

Review of The Play

If you are looking for a place to go this week where 'king hilarity' is the supreme ruler, the Garrett County Playhouse, on Beckman's Peninsula, is the place for you. "Sailor, Beware", one of Philip Kings' most successful plays, is the offering at the "Blue Barn". King has the skill to put into dialogue in a most unusual manner situations we take for granted every day. This play is no exception.

From the moment Edie Hornett makes her entrance, done with great humor, and near-professional ability by Miss Lee Thomasson, until the final scene of the second act, when the Rev. Oliver Purefoy makes a surprise entrance to the astonishment of the near-jilted bride and mother, the audience is in stitches. From that tearful first appearance of Aunt Edie, sister of the poor hen-pecked husband, Henry Hornett, the cast has the audience eating out of their hands. The farce which follows moves along so quickly that one has to be constantly alert not to miss the many punch lines.

There is about to be a wedding, and the bride, Shirley Hornett, is as excited as a bride-to-be should. Jean Sutherland, the starry-eyed young maiden, Shirley, goes along as though nothing could deter her from her dreams. Miss Sutherland, in her usual fine style, is once again proving her capabilities in this role. But then she must reckon with her mother, Emma, who is not only opposed to the wedding, and the man her daughter is to marry, but she - Shirley - finds herself torn between her mother and her father, the latter in agreement with the marriage. Kathy Gonder, a June graduate from West Virginia University in drama, truly outdoes herself, and projects to the audience her entire personality in this role of a domineering mother and wife. In all of her vehemence she proves she is a real comedienne. The father of the bride, done with fantastic skill, is portrayed by Milburn Mehlhop. We have never seen him in a funnier role, nor have we ever had such feeling for his unfortunate position as a hen-pecked man, who seeks comfort and solace in the ferrets which he raises. Henry Hornett loves his daughter, Shirley, but his only means of escaping from the female he calls his wife, is in his loving care for these little animals.

Henry's aunt, Edie (Lee Thomasson), is so sure that her niece is going to be subjected to the same fate she experienced, that everything associated with the upcoming nuptials brings her to tears. She just knows, even through the tea leaves, that the poor girl will suffer a broken heart.

Mrs. Lack, the next-door neighbor, done so extremely ably by Susan Stoner, is the familiar biddy always bearing tidings of ill. All of life seems to be a tragedy to her. Her heart seems to be in the wrong place at the right time.

Without a groom there can be no bride, and no wedding, and this role is played to perfection by Paul Thomas. Albert Tufnell, A.B., is the sailor lad who is on leave from Her Majesty's Navy, and who wants to do the right thing at the right time, but with such a prospective mother-in-law, how can he always do the right thing? This is Paul Thomas' best performance of the summer season as far as this reviewer is concerned. But Albert is not alone, for he has brought home with him, his Scottish mate, Carnoustie Bligh, A.B. James Libby in the role of Carnoustie, is the shy type, especially with the girls. The scene between these two sailors, fighting for their sleeping places on the couch in the living room of the Hornett's is riotous! Libby's Scotch accent is authentic and is done without affectation, and in fact carries his scenes with high humor.

Danielle Pressly, portraying the part of Daphne Pink, the niece of Emma Hornett, is the seductive siren detested by Emma, but who livens up the production with her innuendos, and her ability to draw all the male characters to her wily ways, with the single exception perhaps of Carnoustie. It was the concensus of the audience's reaction that Danielle turned out a rare performance.

After the wedding party had gone to the church for the ceremony, and after it became obvious that there would be no wedding, as predicted by Aunt Edie, they all return home tearfully, with the exception of the mother of the bride. Was Shirley left waiting at the altar for a valid reason? The reason soon appears obvious, as the intended groom finally puts in his appearance. If we told you the reasons for his not showing up at his own wedding, we would be giving away the surprise ending. We can say that the Vicar, the Rev. Oliver Purejoy, liberal man of the cloth that he is, done well as usual by Phillip Nicholson, is the one person who can see through the whole situation, and in the end is able to make things right so that everyone lives happily ever after.

Linda Sukow and Laura Treacy, two local girls who appeared at the Playhouse last week, support the busy-body Mrs. Lack, and carry off their parts as expected.

"Sailor, Beware" is good clean family fare, and if you miss it you will have denied yourself an evening's fun and relaxation!

Note:

It would be presumptuous on the part of the viewer of this summer's plays at the Garrett County Playhouse to think he could fill the shoes of Dr. Eugene Irving Baumgartner, who until this year, had been doing this column each week of the summer season since the Gene Yells first opened thirteen years ago. Dr. Baumgartner's knowledge of the theater knew no bounds, and all who knew him could converse with him not only in this field, but in all of the true art forms. He could review a play that would stimulate the minds of those who read his column each week. He was a writer of the greatest skill, and he would feed his readers and his listeners with knowledge that would do justice to the best of the reviewers.

Dr. Baumgartner loved every phase of show business, and he was at home among theatrical people. His words of kindness to the cast, and his very presence at the Playhouse, and in fact in all areas of community life will be sorely missed. This reviewer wishes to pay the highest tribute to him and to his abilities, as well as to his wife, Helen, who also was a lover of the theater and shared her husband's interests.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our husband and father, Loyal Warnick, who passed away one year ago, August 7, 1966.

As we place a wreath upon your grave
It takes us back one year ago today.
For all of us you did your best
Now darling we will do the rest.
We often sit and think of you,
And talk of how you died,
There was not time to say goodby
Before you closed your eyes.
The weary hours, the days of pain
The sleepless nights are past.
We watched you suffer day by day
Now dear you are at rest. . . . .

Sadly missed by wife, Nida and children, Dewey, Ronald, Carolyn, Shirley, Nyla, Debbie and Patricia.

Traffic Accidents Claim 11 Victims

Last week eleven persons died in Maryland highway accidents. Four of the deceased were drivers and six were passengers. Only one was a pedestrian.

Speed and "driver error" again played prominent roles in terminating the lives of a number of those killed. Alcohol was present in one of the falalities.

Commenting on these accidents, Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the Maryland State Police, said: "Again last week we saw the basic rules of the road being violated by many motorists. This resulted, quite naturally, in death or disabiling injuries to the drivers and others.

"Many times the police officer's comment about the causes of such accidents is short and to the point: Speeding car ran off road and struck a tree; vehicle being driven at excessive speed struck bridge; Operator failed to observe stop sign. The result in death or injury is generally the same".

Lt. Col. Davidson concluded: "This certainly does build a good case for the operator of a vehicle to drive defensively, and at reasonable speeds, at all times. It has been repeatedly proven that inattention, or a disregard of the motor vehicle laws, almost always ends in disaster".

CANCER STATISTICS ARE FRIGHTENING

The Strang Clinic in New York City, famed for cancer detection, recently reported that one in every 100 patients past 40 who feel well and appear to have good health probably has cancer. Fortunately, reported Dr. Emerson Day, the Strang Clinic director, most of these cancers can be diagnosed by the family physician.

When discovered and treated at this pre-symptomatic stage, the chance of a cure is increased greatly. These facts of life or death make it imperative that every adult get regular health checkups.

Use Jet Power To Generate Electricity

Gas turbines, similar to the engines of jet aircraft, are expected to be powering generators soon at Virginia Electric and Power Company's power stations to provide fast, economical electricity at times of peak demand.

The gas turbine generating units will be used for the first time by Vepco to further increase its service reliability.

A 20,000-kilowatt gas turbine unit will be placed in operation in September at Vepco's Mt. Storm Power Station. It will use jet fuel.

In October at the company's Portsmouth Power Station, a second 20,000-kilwatt unit will be installed, fueled by natural gas. These first two units will be powered by Pratt and Whitney jet engines.

A third gas turbine facility, providing 90,000 kilowatts from six separate General Electric units, is planned for the Possum Point Power Station for the spring of next year. These units will be fueled with conventional fuel oil.

Gas turbine generatiing units have the capability of quick starting. It will take three minutes from the time the start button is pushed on the units at Mt. Storm and Portsmouth for the turbines to reach full generating capacity. The six GE units can attain maximum power output in 10 minutes. A conventional steam turbine generator takes four to five hours to approach its peak, according to engineers.

Vepco also plans the addition of several other gas turbine-powered generators, with a planned power output of approximatly 100,000 kilowatts by 1970.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

Beyond Mercy

Lesson for August 13, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 18:1 through 19:20.
Devotional Reading: I Corinthians 3:5-9.

Apollos, it seemed, lacked something vital! He possessed eloquence, he was "well versed in the scriptures," he had been instructed in Christian discipleship, he had a fervent spirit, and he taught accurately what he had learned of Christ. How could such a well-equipped man be said to be lacking in anything?

Rev. Althouse

Luke says it this way: "he knew only the baptism of John." The Baptist, you will remember, baptised people with water as a cleansing from sin for entrance into the kingdom. What could be wrong with that?

Timeliness Of Sin

Nothing was wrong with it. It served a very necessary purpose and today we still baptise people for the remission of their sins. Repentance of sin and forgiveness are no less needed today than they were then. The meaning of baptism is by no means obsolete in our nuclear age, for sin, guilt, and the sense of guilt are still very much with us. No, there is nothing wrong with it, as far as it goes.

The problem is that it does not go far enough. Luke tells us that Apollos had begun "to speak boldly in the synagogue; but when Priscilla and Acquila heard him, they took him and expounded to him the way of God more accurately." Obviously, there was something lacking, something more to be added to his already fine list of attributes.

What is "the way of God more accurately"? Luke doesn't bother to tell us in so many words, yet he makes it clear when he says: "he knew only the baptism of John." Obviously the baptism of John was not enough; something more than repentance and cleansing from sin are needed. But what?

A Thousand Pardons!

A man came to his pastor for counselling and admitted that he was seriously contemplating the act of suicide. Overwhelmed with guilt and a feeling of helplessness about himself, he was at the very brink of this act. "I'm so glad you came," said the pastor, "for what you need is the assurance of God's forgiveness." As if the pastor had not really comprehended his feelings, the man shouted: "Forgiveness! Don't you understand that I've received his forgiveness thousands of times — but it hasn't changed a thing!"

This man knew that forgiveness is not enough. Important as it is, we must move beyond God's mercy. Certainly we need to be forgiven and know it, yet if, like this man, we are forgiven again and again, still committing over and over again the same sins and feeling the same remorse, then life becomes a deadly treadmill. We sin, we repent, we are forgiven, we sin again, etc. What point is there to that? In time the forgiveness seems a cheap thing, worthless. The baptism of John takes one that far, but no more.

More than water

In the Church, therefore, there was another baptism that was related to the baptism of John. It was known as the "baptism of the Holy Spirit." This bestowal of God's power was the "way more accurately" that Priscilla and Acquila expounded to Apollos. We can repent of our sins again and again, but only when we have received God's power in our lives as well as his forgiveness, can we experience the victory over sin Christ promised. We need to go beyond mercy, to receive his power to transform our lives.

The condition of Apollo before his meeting with Priscilla and Acquila was like that of many people today. Such a Christianity is but a set of attractive ideals that is never realized in their lives. They become increasingly frustrated as it becomes apparent that they do not grow, but remain forever the same. Without the gift of God's Spirit to change us, our Christianity becomes a disappointment too hard to bear.

God's grace brings us not only forgiveness. It takes us beyond his mercy and gives us the power to be victorious.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

We second Mr. James DeBerry's motion on the condition of some of the Garrett County highways, especially on Route 135 to the top of Backbone Mountain, and Route 38 from the top of Backbone to Kitzmiller.

They use the same stuff on these roads as Mr. DeBerry said they use on Route 50 from Gorman to Red House.

A little shale and tar lasts about as long as it takes to put it on. What shale the tar doesn't stick to, the cars knock off the road. Also there is no berm hardly at all on Route 135 to the top of Backbone.

Route 135 has a lot of truck use, including pulpwood, gas, oil and produce trucks, not counting the holiday and vacationers that come to Deep Creek Lake for the summer months. These people are entitled to a little better road to travel on.

Truck traffic requires a good heavy road bed and tar and shale will not stand all this extra heavy weight.

Also we have a lot of fog on this side of the mountain during the winter months. When there are no lines on the road to drive by its pretty hard to drive down the mountain at all. You can't see much of the road during the fog and need these lines to drive by. These lines work just like a beacon at an airport and tell you which way to go.

So we think there should be a better road surface put on than has been, and either a wider road or wider berm. You can't pass a tractor trailer with it coming toward you or past you without running off the road. If a job is done right you don't have to do it two or three times a year. It can be done once every 5 years.

There are a lot of people from around Kitzmiller that work around Oakland and drive on these roads 5 and 6 days a week. So, we feel that there should be something done to improve the condition of these roads.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. James David Kitzmiller, Md.

St. George Youth Lightning Victim

A 14 year old St. George, W. Va., high school student was killed last Thursday, August 3, when he was struck by lightning on his father's farm.

He was Gary Ralph White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White, who reside on the White Ridge road near St. George.

Mrs. White said her son had gone to bring in the cows about 7 a. m., and when animals came in without him she went to look for her son, and found him lying in the path near an electric light pole with his hat knocked over an embankment.

Survivors also include a sister, Miss Kay White, at home; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Letha White, St. George, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dumire, Stemple Ridge near Aurora.

The youth was a member of the sophomore class at Parsons High school and the Future Farmers of America. He was a member of Mt. Carmel Methodist church.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon with interment in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Gov. Romney, Michigan, charged LBJ with politics in recent rioting, in delaying calling of federal troops.

Celebrate Double Anniversary

A lawn party and reception was held recently honoring the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Shank, LaVale, and the 25th wedding anniversary of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen O'Brien, Swanton, at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Shank, near Swanton.

Over one hundred guests attended the celebration, given by the children of both couples. The tiered anniversary cakes were served by Mrs. Carolyn Miller and Mrs. Rita O'Brien Savage, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, while Mrs. Dorothy Shank, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Shank presided at the punch bowl.

Out of town guests included Jessie Keller, Raleigh, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Groves and Mrs. Louise Reckner, Winber, Pa.; Mrs. Mildred Nethken, Baltimore; Mrs. Marian Gross and son, College Park, and Mrs. Delores Pooling and son, Takoma Park.

The former Bessie Beulah Steiding, daughter of the late Sue (Beckman) and Herman Steiding, Swanton, was married to Samuel R. Shank, son of the late Catherine (Ralston) and Resley H. Shank, also of Swanton, in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, on July 7, 1917. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Samuel E. Wicker with Dora Steiding and Carrie Shank serving as attendants.

On July 4, 1942, their daughter, Betty Eloise, became the bride of Daniel Glen O'Brien, son of Florence (Bernard) and the late Daniel Thomas O'Brien, Swanton. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. C. W. Fraker. Attendants were Myrtle O'Brien and Carl Everly.

Mr. Shank is a retired Baltimore and Ohio Railroad conductor. They have two children, Herman Shank, LaVale, and Betty O'Brien, Swanton, and five grandchildren.

In the accompanying photograph, Mr. and Mrs. Shank are on the left and Mrs. and Mr. O'Brien on the right.

Governor Cancels Visit

Governor Spiro Agnew, who had planned conferences yesterday with various county officials, Monday stated that due to his absence from the state he would be unable to fulfill the engagement.

The Governor had planned to arrive at the McHenry airport about eleven a. m., confer with the county commissioners and mayors of incorporated towns, and later hold a private luncheon session with the commissioners and his aides.

The visit has not been rescheduled.

Fuzzy Thinking . . .

There's a lot of fuzzy thinking among a small group of citizens. These citizens are termed "irate" over the fact that the State's Attorney provided information which led to the arrest of several tavern operators a few days ago. They seem now to be screaming for his scalp for doing the job for which he was elected.

They claim the present liquor laws are fouled up, and we agree. But there has been no change in the laws which state liquor must not be sold to minors and must not be sold after hours or on Sunday. The persons arrested were apprehended on alleged violations of those statutes, and when there is sufficient evidence to warrant an arrest, enforcement is both commendable and in line of duty. State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer is being commended by many other citizens who feel that laws should and must be enforced.

It has been amusing in recent years how the tavern operators and others have pointed with disgust to the fact there was legal liquor on one side of the street and "dry" on the other. This was the result of the original referendum initiated by the operators themselves but ruled by district division lines.

Amusing also is what this group considers "sneaky", when plain clothes officers gather the evidence they need. It would be ridiculous to send a uniformed officer in and expect him to gather any evidence. Violations are violations no matter in what condition they occur.

There couldn't be anything more "sneaky" than the manner in which the present House of Delegates member acted in getting the new legislation through the legislature without a referendum on the final day.

The hue and cry from those who were apprehended could jeopardize the position of the numerous operators who make an effort to abide by the law, who make no pretense of not knowing what the laws are and conduct their business in such a manner that there is no suspicion aroused. The "irate" operators could easily drag down the "clean" operators with them if they persist in attempting to destroy the function of law and order. Enforcement of the law is to be respected, not condemned. Otherwise our whole social system will become unglued. Possibly this is what these "Irate" citizens desire.

Three Errors Are Listed on Alleged Liquor Violators

State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer informed The Republican office Monday that there were three errors in the list of fourteen persons who were charged with violations of the liquor laws which appeared in last Thursday's issue of the newspaper.

The Republican carried the name of Donald F. Fries, as charged with sale of alcoholic beverages to a minor, and the name should have been Donald F. Drees.

The newspaper also had Merle D. Shipley on the same charge. Mr. Thayer said Shipley was not charged at all but was a minor to whom the alcoholic beverage was allegedly sold.

Also listed was a statement that Manson M. Durr had permitted consumption after 1 a. m., at Hill Top Restaurant on Route 40. This was in error. Durr was charged with permitting the consumption at Mountain Top Restaurant, not the Hill Top, which is run by another person.

The charges of the thirteen individuals were listed on the docket of Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney. Thayer said the cases would probably be presented to the September term of the Circuit Court.

GRAND CHAMPION—Grand champion baby beef was bought by Donald Frazee, left, for Interstate Lumber company for 65 cents per pound. It was an Angus weighing 965 pounds. The 4-H'er who cared for the animal was Jimmy Schmidt.

OAKLAND — ACCIDENT — BLOOMINGTON AND KITZMILLER

"The Bank With An Eye To YOUR Future"

Demonstrates Good Soil Management

William Nace, center, local soil conservation service specialist, and L. Bush Swisher, Farming For Better Living project director and Monongahela Power Company agriculture representative, right, stopped by to chat with Lenwood Bittinger, Deer Park dairyman and 1957 Farming For Better Living sweepstakes winner.

Bittinger has long followed a rigid program of soil management, Nace explained. Planting of grain on the contour between contour strips of grass for hay has held the soil in place. The width of the strips, shown above, is determined by the slope. Increased crop yields have resulted from this practice. The fertility that Bittinger has applied according to the needs of the crop remains in place washing away.

The use of a hay drier in his storage barn finishes curing his hay in the mow. All of the leaves are retained in the hay because it can be stored earlier with a crop drier to finish the curing process in the barn, Mr. Nace said.

Bittinger has improved his tree stand in his farm woodlot.

Barnes Is Winner Of Men's Singles In Mt. Lake Tennis

Mike Barnes of Cheverly defeated Terry Daly, Hartsdale, N. Y., on Sunday, August 6, to win the finals in the 46th Western Maryland Tennis championships, held at Mt. Lake Park. The scores were 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Women's Singles

In the women's singles Julie Bouchelle, Charleston, W. Va., retained the title by defeating Mary Anne Neff, Wahington, D. C., 6-2, 6-3, on Saturday August 5.

Top seeded Mickey Pardew turned the tables on University of Maryland Tennis Coach Doyle Royal to win the senior men's singles 6-3, 6-2 on Saturday at the Tennis club.

Royal, third seeded, had won the title last year. Pardew defeated Phil Neff, Washington, 6-2, 9-7, in the semifinals with Royal advancing to the finals by downing Don Floyd, Arlington, Va., 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Mike Barnes, singles winner, is an 18-year-old student at Price Georges Community college, while his opponent was 20-year-old sophomore at the University of Miami, in Florida.

Barnes had toppled top-seeded Fred Fazzanegan, Washington, in the quarter finals, 8-6, 7-5, and Daly eliminated Ernie Kintz, 6-0, 6-1. Barnes then defeated Jack Dorsey, former Keyser star, now a resident of Wheeling, who was third seeded, in the semifinals, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, while Daly beat Billy Dubin, Perth Amboy, N. J., 6-4, 6-8, 6-2.

Mother-Daughter in Chimneys Tourney

... for the 146th annual jousting tournament to be held at Natural Chimneys, Va., August 19.

A mother and daughter combination from Oakland will make their appearance as participants in the 146th annual Natural Chimneys' Jousting tournament at Mt. Solon, Va., on Saturday, August 19.

The mother, as Joan Miller and now Mrs. Edward H. Rinaca, of Golf Crest Manor development, west of Oakland, was the honorary queen of this event in 1958. She will assist this year in serving punch to the knight contestants. The daughter, Katie, will serve in the capacity of sword bearer to the Honorary Queen of this year's event, the oldest continuously held sporting event in America.

The contest takes place in the shadow of a natural unique formation which resembles the ruins of a medieval castle.

Katie will be in the second grade this September at Center street elementary school in Oakland. Both mother and daughter are talented in art. The daughter has studied ballet dancing. Her father is an engineer at Vepco and the family has resided in Oakland for about a year.

Question

We're hearing a lot about hypertension. How prevalent is this condition?

Answer

A recent U. S. Public Health Service survey revealed that approximately 25 percent of the adults in this country are suffering from either hypertension or hypertensive heart disease. It was also found that another 20 percent show borderline symptoms of one or the other of these diseases. This condition affects approximately 17,000,000 adults with another 16,000,000 borderline cases. More than 35 percent of those 75 and over are classed as hypertensive (suffering from high blood pressure.) If you feel that you can be suffering from hypertension, please do consult your doctor for his help.

Bids To Be Sought For Scout Building

Bids for the construction of the new Potomac Council Boy Scout headquarters on McMullen Highway will be advertised in the next few days, George B. Newman, president of Kelly-Springfield and chairman of the building committee, announced.

Newman said construction drawings and specifications for the headquarters have been completed. The new Boy Scout headquarters will be located on a 200-foot by 200-foot site between Celanese Park and the U. S. Army Reserve Center donated by the Celanese Corporation.

Construction funds were contributed by the estate of the late Edmund S. Burke, former president of Kelly-Springfield, and by the Kelly-Springfield company.

The contemporary one-story stone and redwood building will have approximately 2,800 square feet of floor space. Parking space for 26 cars has been provided.

Newman said construction is expected to begin about the middle of September, soon after the contract is let.

Architect for the project is William J. Tietz.

Hawkins Retires

and the American Association of School Administrators. Among the honors bestowed upon him by colleagues were: President of the Maryland Secondary Principals' Association; President of the Maryland Association of School Superintendents; lifetime membership in the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers Association; a John Hay Fellowship in 1962 at Colorado College, Colorado; a participant by invitation in the Seminar of Advanced School Administration, Harvard University, for two consecutive years (1963 and 1964); and one of eighty school administrators selected by the American Association of School Administrators to represent The Experiment in International Living in a six weeks' study of the schools, people and culture of Sweden in 1963.

As Superintendent of Schools in Garrett County much progress has been made in improving the program of education for all children and creating an environment conducive to good learning, including improvement of physical facilities to provide adequate space, comfort, safety, and sanitation.

Much work also has been done in the area of curriculum and its corresponding program of studies made possible in many cases through improved physical facilities. Notable has been the inclusion of vocational education into the comprehensive high school program.

The number of professional personnel has increased in the County from 181 in 1954 to 228 in 1967. Most of the teachers and administrators employed have Bachelor's or Master's degrees and are certificated by the State. The increase in staff has allowed for the lowering of class size, thus increasing the efficiency of teaching on all levels. Particular emphasis has been given to lowering the class size of educationally disadvantaged children and giving them advantages heretofore denied them.

For the projected school year 1967-68, Mr. Hawkins states that much work must be done for the schools of Garrett County. Among the major projects will be the Garrett County Community College and the securing of the contract for its construction; the addition of a business education and food service building at Southern High School; the expansion of the Agriculture Building and the Construction of a greenhouse at the Northern High School. The latter two projects should be completed for the opening of school in September, 1968.

Within reach and within the planning stage are a kindergarten program for all preschool children and a junior college program for all high school graduates, thus a fifteen year program of public education for the youth of the county.

Mr. Hawkins stated that his plans at the end of another year were somewhat indefinite at this time, except to take a long rest and his first real vacation in many years.

Mr. Hawkins was named superintendent in June, 1954, to succeed R. Bowen Hardesty, who had been named president of Frostburg State College.

Jailbreak Attempt On Tap in Allegany

The removal of Gary L. Miller, 17, accused slayer of Judy Lee Ziegler near Frostburg, and Charles G. Billy, 25, of Pittsburgh, serving a 45-day jail sentence, to the Garrett County jail from Allegany county may have prevented their escape from that county section of the city jail at Cumberland on Friday.

Acting on an "inside" tip that a jail break was being attempted, Deputy Sheriff William Orr called upon City Police Sgt. Oliver Cook to assist him in checking the jail.

An inspection disclosed that three bars had been cut almost all the way through and the saw marks had been covered with chewing gum. Two of the bars had been sawed through in the area where Billy was housed and these two bars led to the outside areaway. One bar in the cell where young Miller had been placed was partly sawed.

Officers were unable to locate the saw blades. Sheriff Paul Haberlein then telephoned Sheriff James E. Frantz in Oakland and advised him to search the pair and their cells.

Sheriff Frantz reported pieces of hacksaw blade were found on Billy's person during the search.

Miller had been returned to Cumberland last Thursday from Jessup where he had undergone psychiatric study at Clifton T. Perkins hospital. Billy had been in jail since August 5 after being convicted for unauthorized use of an auto and drunken driving.

Deputy Orr and Sgt. Cook agreed that had the pair not been moverd last Friday to Oakland they could have made an escape that evening.

Committee Meets Yesterday

The Garrett County local Committee of the Governor's Committee to promote Empolyment of the Handicapped were guests of the parent Committee at a conference luncheon held at Cornish Manor on Wednesday.

The meeting was held to discuss methods by which, the long range objectives of the Governor's Committee could be carried out. Also to create and increase the public awareness of the problems faced by the handicapped in obtaining employment.

The local committee will meet before the Western Maryland Regional Meeting to be held at Camp Detrick, Frederick, October 10th.

ASC Committee Elections Set

An election of ASC community committees for farm program administration in this County will be held by mail in September, Darrell Martin, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, announced today. September 22 has been set as the election date.

For purposes of the election, the County is divided into eight communities. Community boundaries follow election district lines and have not been changed from last year. Designation of community boundaries are as follows:

Community A, district 2, community B, districts 5, 6; community C, districts 3, 12; community D, districts 9, 11, 15; community E, districts 1, 4; community F, districts 10, 13, 16; community G, districts 7, 14, community H, district 8.

Slates of nominees for membership on ASC community committees will be selected by the present community committeemen. The county committee may add additional nominees. Others may be added to the slate of nominees by petition if they are found to be eligible and willing to serve if elected. Petitions must be limited to one nominee each; signed by at least 6 eligible voters in the community; received at the county office by August 28.

In general a person is eligible to be a community committeeman if he lives in the community in which he is eligible to vote. If a person who is nominated by petition is found to be ineligible, he will be notified and given 15 days in which to appeal to the county committee.

Mr. Martin said that nominees should be currently engaged in the operation of a farm and well qualified for committee work.

More Publicity Due

More publicity is coming for Oakland and the county as the result of a reproduction of a Caterpillar Tractor company advertisement which recently appeared in Time and other magazines.

The company will appear again in the Sept. 15 issue of Time and August 14 and November 30 issues of Newsweek, and Sept. 23 issue of U. S. News and World Report.

The advertisement featured Oakland's water supply problem and how it had been overcome.

Russell L. Smith, mayor of Oakland, received a letter this week from W. M. Willshire, senior account executive of N. W. Ayer and Son, Inc., who informed him of the plans.

Kidnaped

The couple reside along U. S. route 40 between Frostburg and Grantsville. Their 21-year-old son Harry, lives with them but he was asleep in another part of the house.

It was discovered later that the intruder had been in Harry's room before he entered the parents' bedroom and had stolen some money from the son's wallet.

The intruder forced Mr. Michael to drive him to Oakland, then to Gormania, then to Mt. Storm and finally to Elk Garden. During this time he took Mrs. Michael's pocketbook and took money from it. Earlier he had taken money from Mr. Michael's wallet. A total of $101 was reported missing.

When he got out of the car at Elk Garden he admonished them not to call police. They then drove to Cumberland by way of Keyser and contacted police.

A full description of the kidnapper-robber was broadcast to area police and sheriffs' offices. The man was described as white, male, about 25, five feet seven inches tall, weighing about 150, with light brown hair, a pock-marked complexion, wearing blue trousers and green jacket.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

August 12, 1967

Dear Sirs:

Enclosed please find clipping from your paper, The Republican, of August 10, 1967.

Now, this "tooth in mouth" is a new expression to me. I am familiar with Hoof and Mouth disease, which affects animals (and even one Englishman); and along with a lot of others, I have often experienced the dreadful feeling of having put my foot in my mouth. I have also had my eyes pop, my hair stand on end and my knees knock when frightened during a TV horror movie. Then there's also the times my ears have burned. Once I even had a blister on my Achilles Heel.

However, after having contemplated my navel for many hours, I cannot ever remember having noticed a play or anything else with a "tooth in mouth". My mind bogles and my heart stands still at the thought of what it might mean.

Hoping you can give me this information, I remain, with tongue in cheek.

Yours Sincerely,
Elizabeth J. Holliday
10 West Drive
Bethesda, Md.
20014

Editor's Note: This letter came after the writer read in last week's story of the play: "The Play, a somewhat tooth in mouth study on American words prior to World War II".

New Teachers

garten; Mrs. Doris Wildesen, kindergarten, Oakland.

Mrs. Jean Hayhurst, math and science; Guy William Hinebaugh, Jr., Title I program, Kitzmiller.

Dallas W. House, Jr., sixth grade; Raymond McNemar, sixth grade, Grantsville.

Mrs. Pauline Leonard, first grade; George Jarvis, sixth grade; George Wayne Wolford, upper grades, Friendsville.

Mrs. Dorothy Overdorff, fourth grade, Accident.

Mr. Hawkins said 35 teachers had resigned from the county school system for all causes, the largest turnover for more than a decade. He pointed out that the County Commissioners had refused to grant the increase of $400 requested by the teachers, and said this was the chief cause for the large number of teachers leaving.

He added this was especially true when the refusal to grant the increase came at a time when every other board of County Commissioners in the state had granted supplements to the state minimum pay scale, and also at a time when he said the county was in the best financial position in its history.

He pointed out that the pay raise could have been granted and the tax rate still could have been reduced by 40 cents.

He added that this situation must soon be corrected to keep the schools from deteriorating as it had been very difficult to recruit qualified teachers with the salaries the county has to offer.

Allen S. Paugh, president of the board of County Commissioners, was the only one to support the pay raise for teachers. Mr. Hawkins felt there might be a strong teacher agitation during the year leading to possible union activities and walk-outs if the teacher salary issue was not resolved.

He concluded by saying the children in the schools in the final analysis would be the ones to suffer most.

Resignations received last week included one from Mrs. Dorothy Davis, Roma Preman, and Vaughn Brunazzi, while Miss Carolyn Lambert had requested a year's leave of absence.

All vacancies have been filled, with exception of the music position at Southern and an art position at Northern. An additional teacher was added to both the Friendsville and Accident schools. Fewer teachers will be at the Kitzmiller school this year as all eighth grade students in Kitzmiller will be transferred to Southern High.

Schools will open Tuesday, September 5.

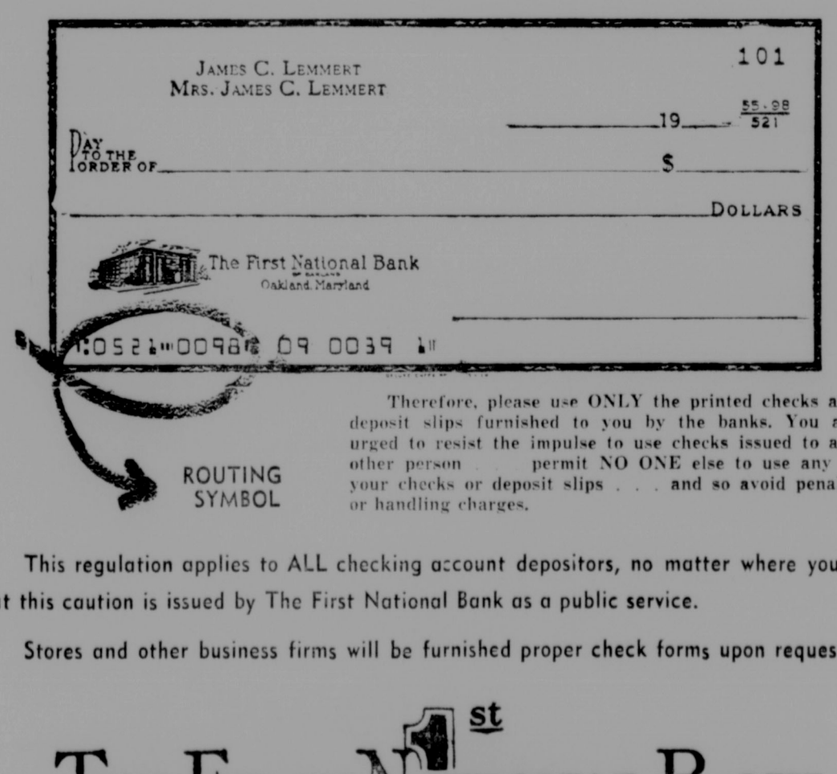
Cashing A Check? Paying A Bill?

If you ARE... then please DO NOT use a check that is not encoded with your BANK NUMBER!

WHY?

Because, effective September 1, 1967, Federal Reserve Banks will no longer handle old style checks, unencoded counter checks, or so-called universal checks.

Nowadays, a great majority of all checks written are collected or cleared through Federal Reserve Banks, so when you send a check out of town or even cash one in a nearby community, chances are that it will pass through the Federal Reserve Bank before reaching your own bank. And in this modern age, all Federal Reserve Banks process checks electronically, and dispatch them to the proper banks by computers.



Therefore, please use ONLY the printed checks and deposit slips furnished to you by the banks. You are urged to resist the impulse to use checks issued to any other person . . . permit NO ONE else to use any of your checks or deposit slips . . . and so avoid penalty or handling charges.

This regulation applies to ALL checking account depositors, no matter where you bank, but this caution is issued by The First National Bank as a public service.

Stores and other business firms will be furnished proper check forms upon request.

Sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
Peace without pain,
But God hath promised
Strength for the day,
Light for the way,
Grace for the trials,
Help from above
Unfailing sympathy,
Undying love.

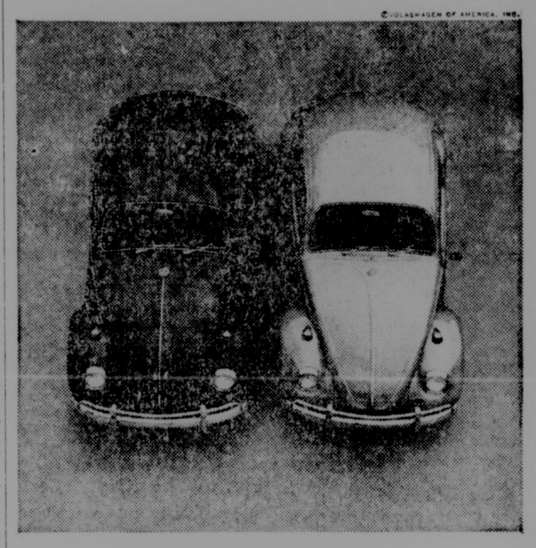
ALDER STREET OAKLAND



There are a lot of good cars you can get for $3400. This is two of them.

If you don't happen to need two cars, there's only one thing that you need less. One car that costs as much as two cars.

Unless you want to pay a lot of money for a lot of horsepower that you'll never use. There's only one state in the country where you can go faster than a Volkswagen —Nevada. (No speed limit—they're big gamblers out there.)

The only extra horsepower you really need is for all those power gadgets. Which you need to drive a car that size. Which has to be that size to hold all those horses.

All of which also makes the average car cost almost as much to run as two Volkswagens. Considering a VW gets about 27 miles to a gallon of gas and about 40,000 miles to a set of tires.

But if you're still not sold on the idea of two bugs for the price of one beast, why not take advantage of this special introductory offer: one Volkswagen for half the price of two.

Over 1100 Dinners Sold By Lions

The annual Chicken Barbecue Dinner, sponsored by the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, last week at the Garrett County Fair was the best in the past 5 years, from the standpoint of members. Over 1100 dinners were served on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. All members of the Club worked with the general Chairman, who was James Hesen. Plans are being made for a more elaborate setting for the Barbecue for 1968. President Richard Davis and Secretary Ray McCutcheon attended the President and Secretary District meeting in Cumberland last Sunday. A number of ideas from this meeting will be passed on to the Club in the near future. President Davis plans to hold a Board of Directors meeting of the Club next week.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be held on August 28th. This will be Awards Night. The perfect Attendance awards will be given at that time as well as recognition to several Boy Scouts. The names of the Scouts will be listed in next week's paper.

Micigan's Governor Romney called an end to the emergency situation in Detroit, brought on by racial riots.

Clyde Calhoun Is New Horse Shoe Pitching Winner

At the Garrett County fair last week, in a four evening series of eliminations, Clyde Calhoun won the championship with a show of skill and consistent ringer throws when they counted most.

Runners up were Delmer Snyder, Clarence Stem and Arthur Wolf. Stem was last year's winner.

According to Frank R. Mattingly and Baity Ridder, committee in charge, the event had high interest and entertainment value and will continue to be a feature of future fairs.

They said several new entrants were pitching this year and some younger men indicated they would enter in 1968.

Calhoun won the last play-off by pitching 27 percent ringers, while Snyder was nosed out in spite of throwing 29 percent of his shoes around the peg. Forty-two dollars was being distributed this week to the high elimination winners, with $18 going to the champion.

Review of The Play

Once again, the Players of the Garrett County Playhouse show their versatility in the play, "Yes, My Darling Daughter". This play, written by Mark Reed, has the setting on a terrace in the Murray summer home in Connecticut. The stage setting is beautiful as are the costumes and scenery.

My wife and I have seen every Play at the Playhouse for the past 12 years, and we always come away from the Playhouse with amazement at the ability of the cast to do such an outstanding job of acting, while in rehearsal for next week's play at the same time.

Laura Treacy, playing the part of Ellen Murray, the daughter, is excellently cast. Ellen wants to be a writer, following in her mother's footsteps. She has to account for a weekend to her father, mother, aunt, and a literary critic. Miss Treacy is most convincing in her wish to have this week-end with a Belgium-bound, ex-architect, played by Philip Nicholson. Phil, as usual does a most convincing job. His boyishness and his anger when confronting the family, after the week-end is really a delight.

The father, played by James Libby is a banker who finds out things of the past, the hard way, and while being stern, also comes to an understanding of everything. I wonder if all fathers would have the same feeling when the skeleton in the closet is liberated, not only for his daughter but of his wife. Jim outdoes himself in this play and it is with delight that I say we are glad Jim is with us this year.

Jean Sutherland as the aunt is a vivacious divorcee. While her past is one husband after, she is somewhat concerned about her niece, and her weekend. Jean has done on outstanding job of acting this year and her performance in this play is exciting to watch.

Susan Stoner as the mother and noted feminist and writer-lecturer finds twenty years of a hidden past suddenly exposed. What does she do? Susan does the type of acting, she has been doing this year, excellent. She is certainly an asset to the playhouse and a delight to watch. Milburn Mehlhop appears to be better in each play. He always plays the part to the hilt. He is so natural that we believe he feels each part as if the part was his past. His portrayal of a liberary critic is well acted and Milburn certainly appears to enjoy the entire plot as it unfolds. Danielle Pressly as the maid, Martha, is tremendous. As a shy retiring type, she plays this part so well that the audience awaits her return to the stage with anticipation.

A word about directing. While we miss Neil Flanagan on stage, we must admire his direction of plays. Neil's sense of timing, expression, and acting ability certainly rubs off on the cast. He is one of our favorites and we look forward to seeing him next week in the last play of the season, "See How They Run".

To Gene Yell goes our thanks for assembling a wonderful group of Thespians this year. We know of the constant work Mr. Yell does to open the Playhouse each year. The reading of many scripts, the planning of the shows, the securing of the cast, props, scenery, etc. The Garrett County Playhouse is one of 4 summer stock companies in the State of Maryland. We in Garrett County should be proud that we have Gene Yell and the Blue Barn each year. "Hang your clothes on a hickory limb, but don't go near the water", go to the Garrett County Playhouse for a wonderful evening. You won't be sorry.

happiness is a high hill

It had been a long climb. For various reasons, we were all glad to get to the top of the hill. Jackie rolled down, over and over, to the inviting creek at the bottom. Sally bolted off to climb the neighbor's fence and croon to the colts pastured there. Baby saw the buttercups and struggled to get down. Jack dreamed over the rich soil of the south forty, while I was drawn by the tall-spired church in the valley.

We're happy in the home we've built on that hill. We've a dog and a cat and swings for the children. Summers, we race down the hill to cool off in the creek. Winters, we get the sled out and take it singing down the slope.

The kitchen windows frame a lovely view of the valley and our church. On Sunday mornings, when its deep-throated bells call us clearly to worship, we go down the hill together to its doors. We enter reverently and joyfully, knowing that much of our happiness and security stems from God's love.

Wherever your church may be; in valley, on hill, or city street, you will find the same glorious opportunity to sustain and strengthen your faith.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

The Vital Nerve

Lesson for August 20, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 19:21 through 20:38. Devotional Reading: Matthew 6:24-34.

The most sensitive part of the human anatomy, it often seems, is the pocketbook or wallet. A person may seem impervious to all kinds of bodily pain and discomfort, but put your hand on his money and you will find you have touched the vital nerve.

Rev. Althouse

Paul discovered this quite frequently. For example, he was getting along without any apparent difficulty at Philippi until the day when he turned and healed the demented slave girl who was being exploited as a soothsayer by her owners. That did it: ". . . when her owners saw that their hope of gain was gone, they seized Paul and Silas and dragged them into the market place before the rulers" (Acts 16: 19 RSV). Having given back the girl her sanity, Paul thus destroyed her owners' hope for continuing profitable exploitation. He had struck the vital nerve!

Their Bread and Butter

Later, in Ephesus, Paul got himself into difficulty once again when he struck the vital nerve. Demetrius, a silversmith who made little statues of Artemis at considerable profit, grew greatly concerned with reports of the converts to the Way (Christianity) by a man named Paul. He would not have been concerned with the growth of this religion if it had not become apparent that Paul was discouraging these people from all idol worship, including the cult of Artemis. The worship of Artemis, of course, was his "bread and butter."

Nor was he the only one concerned, for the cult of Artemis was profitable to many, many people. Tourists came from all over the Mediterranean world to see the great temple of Artemis. "The income from these visitors to Ephesus, particularly the sale of little statues and other pagan articles, was tremendous, employing and providing a living for thousands. Thus, gathering together other artisans and craftsmen like himself, Demetrius gets right to the point: "Men, you know that from this business we have our wealth." This Christianity that was growing in their midst was a threat to their vested financial interests. The success of Paul and his associates had become personal because it was touching their pocketbooks.

Bad for Business

Had Paul avoided this issue and concentrated on theology of a speculative nature, he might very well have had a peaceful time in Ephesus. People did not mind one more religion so long as it did not hurt their business in any way. But his gospel was bad for business and the reaction of the merchants and craftsmen was violent: "When they heard this they were enraged, and cried out, 'Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!' So the city was filled with confusion." (Acts 19:28,29 RSV)

This has always been a common reaction to the gospel when the teaching of Jesus Christ lays heavy hands upon people's money and touches that most sensitive spot. Paul and others like him could not help but come into conflict with certain vested interests. The gospel always opposes human exploitation, regardless of how profitable it may be.

From "They" to "Us"

This is no mere historical problem but a vital concern in our world today. The teachings of Christ still come into conflict with vested interests, hurting business enterprise that is dishonest and dependent upon exploitation. As a rule today, people find Christianity quite harmless; but when it touches their profits, their wealth, their financial gain, then suddenly, having been touched at the vital nerve, they respond as the Ephesians did long ago.

Yet, let us not merely say "they," for the gospel often brings similar indignant responses from us when it reaches into our pockets and calls into question our own honesty and integrity. We are all for prophetic Christianity until the prophecy touches our own vital nerve.

Sun Over Exposure Is Cancer Danger

Every year people spend hours basking in the sun with pleasure and little thought of risking cancer of the skin, but every year approximately 90,000 people in the United States develop skin cancer and about 5000 die of it. "Most of these deaths could be prevented so easily", Dr. William Savage of the Garrett County Unit, American Cancer Society, commented.

"In Maryland this year", he said, "there will be an estimated 1300 new cases of skin cancer". Although the majority of these individuals will probably survive, a large fraction of those who die of skin cancer are lost for no good reason".

Dr. Savage said: "The words 'for no good reason' explain why the American Cancer Society has included skin cancer control in its five year action program to save more lives from cancer.

"Putting on a shirt with long sleeves, a wide brimmed hat, using lotions or cream to filter out rays should be common practice but only too often isn't. Most skin cancers are caused by overexposure of the sun. A beach umbrella can be protective on the beach or lawn. So can an application of lotion or cream.

"The general public associates tanning with 'good health' and 'attractiveness'. Actually, tanning is a response to ultraviolet infury, and the cumulative damage that results from excessive exposure to sunlight is the major factor in premature aging of the skin and the development of skin cancer".

Dr. Savage pointed out that skin cancer is readily detectable. "A blemish that won't disappear within approximately two weeks, a change in wart or mole, a tendency to bleed or darken, all these are telltale signs and should be looked at by your doctor as soon as possible. Early detection may make possible the treatment or removal of a small cancer before it can cause any vital damage to your body".

A free pamphlet, "Sense in the Sun or a film by the same name are available from the local organization by contacting Robert F. Rodheaver.

WOULD YOU PAY $14.00 NOT TO SNEEZE DURING THE WORST POLLEN MONTHS?

It's no news to allergy sufferers, but summer sneezes and watery eyes are caused by pollen. And most of the summer pollen gets into your house through the windows. So what can you do? Close all the windows when it's a hundred in the shade? Hardly.

You could, of course, treat yourself to whole-house Gas air conditioning. Gas lets you trade pollen-choked air for filtered-clean, easy-to-breathe air. And be wonderfully cool.

Tell yourself that Gas air conditioning is the quietest, longest-lived cheapest-to-operate central air conditioning you can get.

Then, for a clincher, remind yourself that you can get a 3-ton, whole-house Gas air conditioner and normal installation, for only $14.00 a month—perhaps less—right from the Gas Company. And there's no down payment.

24 Are Killed On Maryland Hi'ways

Last week twenty-four persons died on Maryland highways. Sixteen of those killed were drivers, four were passengers, and four were pedestrians.

Commenting on the unusually high death toll for the week, Lt Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the Maryland State Police, said: "When we look over the causes of the death-dealing accidents on Maryland highways last week, it is very obvious that history continues to repeat itself. Inattention, speed, and the influence of alcohol are still very much in evidence.

"During the period of the year when so many drivers are travelling on vacation, it is imperative that the driver of the automobile be wide awake ratther than over tired, and alert rather than complacent while he has control of the car. Certainly, if he starts for home after he is much fatigued from the day's activities, or after a party when he has been drinking, his action will not be conducive to highway safety. Every driver is urged to keep this uppermost in his mind at all times in order to avoid accident-producing situations".

Alcohol was present in six of the fatal accidents, speed in fourteen, and "driver error" in twenty-two.

Honorary Degree To Go To Maurice Brooks of WVU

Maurice G. Brooks, professor of wildlife management at West Virginia University, Morgantown, W. Va., will be honored within the next few weeks—an honorary degree and release of a science book he has authored.

The honorary degree, Doctor of Science, will be bestowed on him September 14 by Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, Pa.

Prof. Brooks' new book, "The Life on the Mountains", will soon be released by McGraw-Hill, Inc., with a first printing of 100,000 copies.

Susquehanna's faculty and board of directors voted to confer the honor upon the WVU professor because of his contributions to science. Brooks spoke at a convocation at the university three years ago, and was the speaker last year at a meeting of the Garrett County Teachers Association.

"The Life on the Mountains", is the tenth book in "The Living World of Nature" series being published by McGraw-Hill and World Book Encyclopedia. Prof. Brooks' book is designed to serve as a reference work for high school students.

Brooks described his book as "a survey of how mountains affect the living things on their slopes, from the bottoms to the tops".

Divided into four chapters, "The Life on the Mountains" will deal with plant and animal zonation on mountains in both the western and eastern parts of the United States.

In 1965, Brooks published "The Appalachians", a book dealing with the human, botanical, zoological, and geologic characteristics of the Appalachian region.

Brooks has been a member of the West Virginia university faculty since 1923, and last spring other faculty members selected him as one of the 12 outstanding instructors at WVU. A number of students from this area have had classes to him in the past twelve or fifteen years.

Reed Martin Dies In Washington

Reed F. Martin, 83, who was the General Accounting Office's only chief clerk for 23 years, died, July 31, of a stroke at his home at 6818 9th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

With a degree in commerce and science from Ohio Northern University, he went to Washington to work in the Census Bureau in 1910. In World War I he went to England and France as an auditor for the War Department. His post was transferred to the GAO when it was established in 1921.

Mr. Martin received a law degree from the old National University Law school in 1926 and the following year he was made chief clerk, a post which was abolished in a reorganization in 1950, the year he retired. He supervised and administered all services for the agency, including purchasing of equipment and supplies, mail, messenger and duplication service and transportation.

A member since 1928 of General Services, Inc., a private organization which operates cafeteria and recreation services in federal buildings, he served as president from 1933 to 1940 and as a trustee until 1953.

He had resided early in life in Terra Alta and married Della Fike, of that community. He leaves his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Donald Saville, College Park; and Mrs. George Olmsted, Alexandria, Va.; three granddaughters; five brothers, William, Akron, O.; Alva R. Martin and Robert S. Martin, Oakland; Cletus, Cleveland, O.; and Orlando, of San Bernadino, Calif. Services were scheduled August 3 with burial at Fort Lincoln cemetery, Washington.

Memorials Given To Cancer Unit

The year-round memorial program of the Garrett County Unit, American Cancer Society has realized $35.00 in memorial gifts during the past 10 months. According to Earl Clark, unit treasurer, the state total was nearly $58,000.

Memorial gifts received by the Garrett County unit of the American Cancer Society are made in remembrance of those who have died of cancer or other causes, and are also frequently made in the name of living members of the family or friends in honor of birthdays, anniversaries and other important events.

Every memorial gift is acknowledged with a card naming the person in whose honor the donation has been made. This card is sent to the person designated by the donor. It does not state the amount of the gift. An acknowledgment is also sent to the donor.

Mr. Clark said the only information needed for making a memorial gift is the name of the person honored and the name and address of the person to whom acknowledgment should be sent.

Memorial gifts may be sent to Garrett County Unit, A.C.S. P.O. Box 5412, Oakland.

To Observe 35th Event

Mr. and Mrs. Artenis Harsh, of Eglon, W. Va., will celebrate their 35th wedding anniversary with an open house on Sunday, August 20, from 2 to 4 o'clock p. m., in the Eglon Memorial building. All friends and relatives are invited.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 91. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., AUGUST 24, 1967 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 26.

Freedom March . . .

From a Warner and Swasey advertisement appearing recently in U. S. News and World Report, we are informed that the most successful Freedom March was the one in covered wagons.

The advertisement continues: That, too, was made by Americans—looking for work. No demands, no subsidies, no claim anyone owed them anything. They traveled mostly on foot and through deadly danger, to where there was work to do (they didn't ask it be brought to them nor created for them.)

"Many had never been prosperous—their little farms were worked out, or their skills weren't very good. But their self-respect was real enough to drive them through thousands of miles of unspeakable hardship, and there create their own jobs and their own futures. And that courage and self-respect and hard work were what made America's splendid West".

On the other side of the coin we learn from an Illinois newspaper that there was a move underway to form a Public Aid Union, "to guarantee a higher standard of living for recipients". We are living in a highly unionized era, but this is carrying public aid a little too far. Welfare was never meant as a substitute for work. It was originally meant as a stop-gap procedure, to allow a person to exist until work was found and a person could earn his way. After three or four generations of living on welfare, the habit becomes pretty strong. But the demand for a higher standard of living while remaining on public aid is a little beyond us.

Schools To Open Tuesday, Sept. 5

Schools in Garrett County will reopen on Tuesday, September 5 and will tentatively close on June 7, 1968. The number of school days scheduled in this county is 184.

DAR Marks Soldier Grave

Approximately fifty persons gathered around the grave of Lt. James Drane, a Revolutionary soldier, last Saturday afternoon at the Mt. Zion Lutheran church cemetery in Accident, and witnessed the placing of a marker by Descendants of '76 Chapter, District of Columbia, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution.

It was the first time that any such distinguishing marker had been placed over the grave of a Garrett County revolutionary soldier.

The ceremonies were planned by Mrs. Kenneth Stahl, regent of the DAR chapter, a former resident of the county and daughter of Mrs. John Stevenson, Mt. Lake Park.

A color guard was provided by members of Accident Post No. 208, and Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, through Paul W. Hoye, commander of Mountain District.

A memorial wreath was placed on the grave of the soldier by Randall Kahl, Legion post sergeant-at-arms, who has been active in marking all graves of deceased war veterans and in research.

A letter from Congressman Charles McC. Mathias, was read by B. O. Aiken, House of Delegates member, which said in part: "Each age and generation is confronted with new and greater problems which demand new and imaginative solutions. For this reason the legacy which is ours, and which was contributed to by Lieutenant Drane, must be cherished and nurtured. This legacy presents us with the great challenge of interpreting and relating the spirit of '76 in contemporary terms, so that spirit may have a new vitality and substance in our own time and lives, and go forth to succeeding generations ever renewed and inspiring. If we fail to do this we will have condemned our past and forsaken our responsibility to the future".

The reading of the commission of Lt. Drane was read by DeCorsey Bolden, past commander of Proctor Kildow post, and the Drane family history was read by Paul Calderwood, president of the Garrett County Historical society.

The marker was appropriately dedicated by Mrs. Walter E. Ward, state regent for the district of Columbia, NSDAR. Attending were state vice-regent for the District of Columbia, Mrs. Douglas Dwayer, and representatives from DAR chapters in Cresaptown and Keyser. The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. C. F. Dauphin, pastor of the church.

Jailed Man Is Wanted in Penna.

Allegany county sheriff Paul C. Haberlein last Saturday night reported that Charles G. Billy, 25, of Pittsburgh, had been identified by Pennsylvania authorities as a Charles Paul Schaffold, who is wanted in that state for various charges, including being a fugitive from justice.

The man presently is in the county jail at Oakland where he and another prisoner were transferred August 17, the day before it was discovered the bars in their cells in the city jail at Cumberland had been partially sawed through.

Schaffold had been confined in Cumberland since August 5 when he was convicted by Magistrate Lee Barnett on charges of unauthorized use of a vehicle and driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs. He was sentenced to 45 days by the magistrate.

Sheriff Haberlein said a detainer had been filed by Pennsylvania authorities against the man, who is wanted for grand larceny and false pretense on bad checks, as well as being a fugitive. He was identified by fingerprints. The sheriff said the man also may be charged with attempted escape.

Deputy Has First Baptism Under Fire

Delbert Swartzentruber, latest appointed deputy sheriff, allegedly underwent his baptism under fire August 16, when Ervin Kitzmiller was placed under arrest on three charges. Also involved were Sheriff James E. Frantz, who was also an alleged victim.

Kitzmiller was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was also charged with resisting arrest by a uniformed officer in execution of his duties, knowing him to be such. In addition he was charged with assault and battery on a uniformed officer in execution of his duties. The man came to the jail apparently desiring the arrest of another man, but allegedly became unruly. He was finally placed in jail by Frantz and Swartzentruber and the three charges then filed.

At a hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney on August 17, the man asked for a jury trial on all three charges and was placed under bond for his appearance at the September term of Court.

Two boat cases also were on file in the magistrate's office. C. L. Davis, Akron, O., was charged by Leo Friend, game warden, of taking and using a boat without the owner's consent and was fined $50 and costs. He also had another charge against him, made by John F. Dragoo, of Pt. View Inn, for attempting to defraud but the case was dropped when $91.73 was paid to the proprietor.

Bean Crop Av'ages 3 Tons To Acre

One farm commercial project, the harvesting of beans for the Green Giant company, is expected to be completed by the end of this week, with the total crop, in the neighborhood of 1,650 tons, being shipped to two of the company's packing plants.

The yield was considered average or above, and better than average for Maryland. Francis Noble, field man for the project, told Wayne Hamilton, Red House, who supervised the contracting of the acreage among the farmers of the county, that some fifteen picking machines had been in use for the past fifteen days and would probably wind up their job on Friday.

The pickers were at Cranesville on Tuesday, Hutton yesterday, and Aurora today, concluding in the Oakland area on Friday. The pickers had been in the Oakland area previously.

Mr. Hamilton said 550 acres of beans had been contracted among farmers of the community and that the average harvest was about three tons to the acre.

Hamilton said they had used a brand of white seed Tender White, which was used exclusively for machine picking and that the efficiency of the machines had been tested and averaged around 90 percent effective. He termed this even better than hand picking. The vines have the tendency to stand more erect than some other varieties, and are more adaptable to machine picking.

Some of the beans are being shipped to Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, while some were being shipped to Fruitland, Md. The company's main office is at LeSoeur, Minnesota. The shipping is by motor truck.

Owner of Burned Auto Is Learned

Maryland State Police in this area have solved—to some extent the finding of a burned automobile on the Limestone road, a good-weather scenic road between Accident and Friendsville, Sunday night.

Persons finding the car ablaze asked for an ambulance to be sent to the scene, fearing the driver was inside, but an investigation failed to produce any body, and mystery surrounded the reason for its being there.

The sheriff's office and Maryland State police began their investigation. The car evidently had plunged or had been run over a cliff, and either caught fire or was set afire. Police said the vehicle bore a Pennsylvania license tag.

Early reports indicated that someone had plunged over the 100-foot cliff and burned to death. The investigation showed there was no one in the car and a search of the area produced no one dead or injured.

A teletype was sent out and police learned that the owner lived in Uniontown. He was contacted yesterday morning and told police he knew the auto was there, was burned and that he would remove it in the near future.

Police said the interior of the car was burned out and even the glass in windows and doors had melted. It was surmised the car perhaps had been stolen or intentionally burned.

Investigating the event were Sheriff James E. Frantz, and troopers Daniel Tharp and Charles E. Loper.

Road Program On U. S. 219 To Go As Planned

Special Meeting Held On August 7 With S.R.C. Officials

Following a special meeting of the Board of County Commissioners with the State Roads commission and roads officials, along with the county legislators, on August 7, decision was made to continue the road program as previously outlined, with modification as to the access roads on the improved section of U. S. 219, between McHenry and Deep Creek Bridge.

Present at the meeting were Jerome Wolff, director; C. A. Goldiesen, Walter Addison, James E. Hawthorne, Edward T. Paulis, Jr., members of the commission; John Bushby, district engineer; John J. McMullen, regional director; Thomas Sluss, county roads engineer; George R. Hughes, state senator; B. O. Aiken, House of Delegates, W. Dwight Stover, attorney to the county commissioners; and Spencer Graham, former state senator.

Under discussion was the proposed construction of U. S. 219, to connect with two completed portions.

Mr. Wolff informed those present concerning available funds for road building in the entire state as well as the shortage of funds available for this county. Authorization of funds for this county projects totaled $11.809 million and he said $15.034 million were needed.

Mr. Wolff also noted the present six-year program in all probability would have to be extended to 11 years because of the lack of funds for construction. As to examples of rising costs he pointed out that 3¼ miles on state route 135, orginally estimated to cost $768,000 was now $2.4 million and the remaining portion of U. S. 219, orginally estimated at $1.065 million was now $2.7 million.

He added that the Roads commission was trying to equalize aid to all counties and some projects in the county must be scaled down to funds available.

It was following this discussion that those present decided that the roads would be built as planned with modification as to access roads to be built free access roads with limited access only where necessary. The areas where access was to be limited to be decided according to need by the State Roads commission.

Restaurant Moved

The Quality Lunch Room, better known as Glotfelty's Restaurant, Second street, Oakland, after being in the same location for 43 years, moved to a newly constructed building, just about 25 yards away on the same street, without missing a day's business.

The move was made last Sunday to the structure just completed for Richard O. Glotfelty, by the Garrett National Bank. This was the agreement reached by the bank and Glotfelty before the latter would agree to sell his property to make way for a modern structure for the bank, corner of Second and Green streets.

Orginally a restaurant stood on the old location somewhere around 1916 and was operated by William Ewing. Then after a few years it was operated by Adrian "Dobie" Glotfelty and Harry Stahl. In 1924 J. W. Glotfelty, father of Richard, came into the business and before long he bought out Mr. Stahl and then his brother Adrian. The operation of the restaurant was taken over a few years ago by Richard after he and his father and a brother had run the business for a few years.

The Christian's Relation To The World

Does the Bible contradict itself? What are we to believe when we read I John 2:15, 17, "Do not love the world or the things in the world ... the world passes away, and the lust of it; but he who does the will of God abides forever".

Does this mean we need to try to escape the world in which we live? Some have tried this, by living as hermits or monastics as far from civilization as possible. Few of us feel this is God's will.

Our conflict in relation to the world is brought to focus in the account of Creation that, "God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good", and in the familiar words of John, "For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life".

How should we relate to a world we are told not to love and yet one God created as good and loved enough to give his Son?

A part of our difficulty is in clearly defining the meaning of world. Obviously, the meaning of the word varies in different scriptures. The Greek word cosmos has a number of meanings, and may be translated in various scriptures as: order, the world, the material universe, the earth, the public, the human race.

The created world is good, and creation includes man, whom God loves with a love undeserved and unearned. It is only when we get our priorities mixed up and give our allegience to the Creation rather than the Creator that we miss the the purpose of God and become a part of the world of disobedience - thus alienating ourselves from the spiritual purpose of God. The material world is temporary, and the world of disobedience will be destroyed.

We cannot escape the natural world. God created it to be used and "subdued" by man, and it is good. The proper use of the natural world is made to the degree we understand God's love for people - seen most clearly in Jesus Christ. To have the spirit of the Son in our lives drives us, not apart from the world, but out into the world. This does not mean acceptance of standards contrary to God. It does mean willing and working for fairness, justice, and brotherhood of all men - motivated by a spirit that recognizes a God-given dignity and value in every person. It is not based on how a person may act but on the fact that he is a Child of God by Creation and a brother in the human family - whether Indian, Negro, Chinese, Russian, or Viet Cong. He must be made to feel that he has a dignity if we expect him to act with dignity toward other persons.

Rather than comfortable isolation within the walls of the Church, Christian commitment means getting involved where decisions are made that affect people's lives. It may mean giving up that comfortable evening at home to take responsibility in community improvement, taking an active position for civil rights or for fair business practices, or taking an unpopular position on war that insists on respecting the enemy as a human being.

The way we act toward people depends on our attitude toward the world and the basic commitment of our life. "The world passes away, and the lust of it; but he who does the will of God abides forever".

PHARMACY PHACTS from Clinton W. Englander

Question

How can I make shaving with a razor easier than the torture it now is?

Answer

Regardless of all the claims made for the various shaving soaps, water is still the most effective beard softener. Normal beards need from 1½ to 2 minutes' contact with hot water to become "soft." If you've ever had a shave from a barber, you'll remember how he wrapped a steaming hot, wet towel around your face and left it there for a good minute or more before he then started to lather your face. If you will do the same with your face before you "lather up", your beard will be bound to be "softer" than merely dampening your face before applying whichever shaving soap you're now using.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

On the grass of New York's Central Park, over which have trod through the years untold thousands of immigrants enjoying a better world than they had every known, the motley crowd cheered as a group of young men set fire to the American flag and watched it burn. No hand was raised in protest. Nobody stepped forward to challenge the desecration. On a grass plot on the campus of UCLA in Los Angeles, a small group of young men in the midst of a swarming crowd perpared to set torches to the Communist hammer-and-sickle flag, the Nazi swastika banner, and the flag of the United Nations. They were set upon by angered members of the crowd, pummeled, and the flags of Soviet Communism, Nazi Germany and the UN were seized and protected. These two events were reported by the Associated Press.

What did the two demonstrations mean? Have our American citizens lost their love of country? Are devotees of Soviet Russia (present and agitating the crowds in both flag burning incidents), or the Nazi stormtroopers or the UN dominating the actions of Americans from coast to coast? No; certainly not!

Through every strata of our native citizenry, regardless of race, color, creed, politics, or age, runs a powerful bloodstream of patriotism (Webster: Love for or devotion to one's country). Lately, however, a tourniquet has been applied. The display of patriotism, the demonstration by an individual or group of zealous support for our nation ("flag waving"), has provoked various forms of criticism in many "liberal" quarters — from editorialists, "intellectuals", college faculties in some very influential segments of the communications media.

Metropolitan Little Rock's quarter million people awoke one morning a few weeks ago to read in their morning Arkansas Gazette a somewhat surprising full-page announcement. The Gazette for more than 25 years has been "liberal" in its editorial section. "Excessive patriotism" has constantly been frowned upon with the French-coined epithet "Chauvinism". With much of its editorial policy I have long been in sharp disagreement. But here in the Sunday Gazette was an advertisement, with Old Glory flying prominently in the center of the page, announcing that the newspaper wanted to get the Stars and Stripes hoisted over every home in its circulation area! This type of idea I have long supported, and herewith commend.

For $3 (less than cost, counting delivery postage) the Gazette aggressively (with all out patriotic appeal) extended to its readers a flag kit containing display-size bunting flag, a staff, a metal staff-holder, and a tie-rope — so every family could proudly display its patriotism, as all patriots (all citizens) should! "We just weren't conditioned for what happened", said Sam Harris, director of Public Service for the Gazette. Thousands of flags were sold in the first rush, mail orders came from "every corner of the state". Cub Scouts in Gillette, Arkansas, got nearly every home and business in their city to purchase one of the Gazette's flags. Other Scout groups, American Legion posts and other organizations got busy. Flags waved throughout Arkansas.

Why not a flag project for every community in America? Won't you pick up the challenge? Our flag as a symbol embodies history, as Woodrow Wilson observed; and sentiment too, as Oliver Wendell Holmes wrote:

"One flag, one land, one heart, one hand,
One Nation, evermore!"

Panama —Another Cuba

Though the United States rightly wants to be a good neighbor to the Latin republics in this hemisphere, it should never indulge in appeasement of countries in this hemisphere by sacrificing sovereign rights and imperilling the security of the Americas.

Unhappily, it seems that the Johnson administration may indulge in the ultimate appeasement of Panama with regard to the canal and canal zone. On the President's desk, at last report, were draft treaties covering the strategic waterway and the zone which the United States has held since 1903. According to reliable reports, the draft treaties involve a surrender of U. S. sovereignty over the Panama Canal and the canal zone.

In the light of what has happened in the Caribbean and elsewhere in the world — principally at Suez, a U. S. backdown on the Panama Canal issue could be fatal to the best interests of the United States and other countries in this hemisphere.

Since the communists came to power in Russia, their propaganda has hammered at U. S. control of the Panama Canal. The communists understand that the U. S. would suffer a terrible blow if the inter-oceanic canal were lost. They recognize how much the communist world has gained by the ousting of the British from the Suez Canal, and they hope for a similar success in the Panamanian isthmus.

U. S. sovereign rights over the canal and canal zone were confirmed in a solemn treaty signed by Panama and ratified by the United States. No Panamanian government can take away from the U. S. the authority it rightfully possesses under this treaty. Only the U. S. Senate can abandon the rights enjoyed by the United States, and this it should never do, no matter how much the President may plead.

The U. S. is on the wrong course with respect to Panama. Since the 1950s, there have been many riots and threats of riot against U. S. citizens living in the isthmus. These riots have been organized to bring pressure against the United States to relinquish its rightful authority in the zone. They constitute political blackmail of the United States.

Several administrations have erred in handling the problem. They have bowed to pressure from the blackmailers. As always is the case in blackmail, concessions have resulted in fresh demands. One can be sure that new Panama Canal treaties would result in another wave of demands on the U. S. The truth is that appeasement doesn't pay.

The idea of sharing control of the Panama Canal with the Panamanians is an absurdity. Panama is one of the most unstable countries in Latin America. It simply isn't a fit partner for the U. S. in an operation of immense importance to all the maritime and trading nations of the world. Responsible Latins should understand this as well as U. S. citizens. Chile and Peru, for example, are utterly dependent on efficient operation of the Panama Canal. Yet no one could offer any evidence supporting the view that Panama has the technical competence and political stability essential to the management of the Panama Canal.

It would be a mistake, of course, to regard the furor over the Panama Canal simply as a case of Panamanian nationalism. Behind the commotion are the ambitions of the Soviet Union and its Caribbean satellite, Red Cuba. Since Fidel Castro first grabbed power in Havana, he has been interested in sparking revolution in Panama — revolution aimed at seizure of the strategic waterway. It is reasonable to suppose that the recent discussions between Castro and Premier Alexei Kosygin of Russia involved the Panama Canal is a key feature. Is is imperative, therefore, that an aroused U. S. public declare itself utterly opposed to any sell-out of the national interest in new Panama treaties.

Is Your Name BATEMAN?

Do You Know That:

Bateman, an old and honored surname, is of English origin. It admits of a few derivations. According to some authorities on the origin of names, it signifies "servant of Bate", the latter being a pet form of the personal name Bartholomew. It is said also that Bateman is a transformation of Boatman and that in some instances it is obtained from the Old English "baete" which means "harness", and therefore was often applied in mediaeval times to harness makers.

Elisha Bateman (1753-1830) was a private in the Ulster County, New York militia during the Revolutionary War. Another Revolutionary patriot was William Bateman who was born in 1757 and served as a private in the Pennsylvania troops.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has sixteen listings of persons by the name of Bateman who were residents of Maryland and heads of families at that time. Twelve of them lived in Charles County.

There are ten references to persons by the name of Bateman in the latest directory of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholastic society.

Frank Bateman (1842-1924), a direct descendant of William Bateman who sailed from England in 1630 and settled in Charlestown, Massachusetts, was the founder and president of Bateman Manufacturing Company, Greenloch, New Jersey, substantial maufacturers of agricultural tools, with several branches in the United States and Canada.

Ephraim Bateman (1770-1829) received a public school education, became a prominent physician in New Jersey, turned to the field of politics, and eventually served as U. S. senator from the state.

Newton Bateman (1822-1897), an educator of note, was Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of Illinois for fourteen years, following which he was president of Knox College, Galesburg, Illinois for twenty-three years.

Harris Bateman is vice-president in charge of engineering, and a member of the board of directors, Cities Service Oil Company, with offices in Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Costly Keys...

You have probably seen some of the ads warning cars owners to "Remove Your Key—Lock Your Car". Perhaps you gave a quick glance and hurried on.

We want to add a few words to the message contained in those advertisements, covering some points that you may not realize when you walk away from your car leaving it unlocked with the keys at the ready. In case you want some specifics on the prevalence of this practice, 59 percent of all the cars stolen during the past six years were left by their owners ready to roll.

This is an important reason why auto theft is now the nation's second most costly crime, one that takes a half-billion dollars out of people's pockets every year. (Burglary is number one). And it might be mentioned that auto theft losses don't come out of the other fellow's pocket, nor do they come out of the insurance companies' coffers. They are paid by everyone who owns a car and pays insurance on it. That means you.

The careless or stupid driver who leaves his car unlocked with the key in the ignition is, to all intents and purposes, an accomplice in crime and in some states this is recognized. However, this action becomes all the more reprehensible in the light of car theft statistics which show that 64 percent of all those arrested for stealing cars are under 18 years of age. Thus it would seem that the people who leave their cars ready to go are also contributing to the delinquency of minors. To many teenagers cars are almost irresistible and it is obvious that an unlocked, untended car, particularly a sleek, racy model, presents a tremendous temptation in this permissive age.

Nor does it all end there. Criminologists point out that car theft starts many youngsters on what used to be called the "downward path". Certainly it gives them a record that can prove a tremendous handicap as long as they live. But there is more. According to the Justice Department in Washington more than 90,000 of the 550,000 vehicles stolen last year were involved in accidents. Another grim note: 15,000 of those cars caused personal injury to one or more persons.

It's something to think about the next time you slip out from behind the wheel. The unauthorized hand that turns the key you leave in the ignition could become involved in a fearsome tragedy. And you, of course, would be a party to it.—U. S. Press Association.

CAPITOL COMMENT

by
Charles "Mac" Mathias
Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

Social Security Increases Delayed

It has been more than a year since a group of us urged passage of reforms in the social security and railroad retirement systems. Paramount among these reforms were automatic cost-of-living increases, to spare elderly Americans the hardships which result from dollar shrinkage produced by inflation, and the lifting of the earnings ceiling which presently penalizes those over 65 who are able and willing to work.

Last fall, you will recall, President Johnson followed up the Congressional initiatives toward reform in a speech at Woodlawn, the national headquarters of the Social Security Administration near Baltimore. His recommendations featured a substantial raise in benefits, and liberalizing of many coverage requirements — but also involved tax rate increases, and even the taxing of some social security benefits, aspects of his plan which were not emphasized at the time.

Since June 1966, the cost of living has risen noticeably. Goods and services which cost $11.29 a year ago now cost the consumer $11.60. Yet the Congress has still taken no action on benefit increases, cost-of-living adjustments, or any of the other changes which are so long overdue.

The House Ways and Means Committee is, of course, now meeting in executive sessions to mark up a comprehensive bill, after lengthy hearings which began early in March. In all fairness, I should note that this Committee has been busy with other legislation, including increases in the national debt and continued suspension of the business investment tax credit. It is important to remember, too, that the bill before the Committee (H. R. 5710) contains not only changes in the social security system, but also many amendments to the public welfare programs which are extremely complex and detailed.

The fact remains, however, that time is running out. The Senate can't act on any social security changes until the House has passed a bill. If the House is further delayed, final passage of this legislation may have to be postponed until the next session of Congress, during an election year — no time for rational consideration of this type of legislation.

This year I have probably received more spontaneous mail on social security and railroad retirement than on any other legislative issue. These letters, from throughout the Sixth District, reflect a grave concern among all those who must depend on these programs for their day-to-day support. The longer Congress delays action, the more these citizens will have to endure the financial strain of living on inadequate and dwindling fixed incomes.

Bloomington Funds Approved

Maryland scored a significant victory in the House last week, when we passed the Public Works Appropriations bill, including $2 million for land acquisition to begin construction at the Bloomington Dam. The President's Budget Bureau had not requested any funds for this vital project this year, but the Appropriations Committee and the whole House responded to the clear need to start construction now, without delay.

As I told the House, I feel that this appropriation was consistent with true economy — first, because costs of construction would rise if the work was set back, and second, because the costs of continued flood damage and water shortages in the Potomac Basin could be extremely high and damaging.

Miss Lusby Engaged

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Lusby, Cumberland, formerly of Oakland, announced the engagement of their daughter, Caroline Reese, to Dr. James E. Huheey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Huheey, of Batavia, Ohio.

A graduate of Allegany High school Miss Lusby is a cum laude graduate of Goucher college and is a graduate student at the University of Maryland. She is working toward her doctorate in chemistry and has received the DuPont teaching fellowship.

Dr. Huheey received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Cincinnati and his master's and doctorate degrees from the University of Illinois. Following postdoctoral research at the University of Michigan he served as assistant professor at Worcester Polytechnic institute. He is now an assistant professor of chemistry at the University of Maryland.

Dr. Huheey has written numerous scientific papers in the fields of chemistry and zoology and is the author of the recently published book, "The Amphibians and Reptiles of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park".

A November wedding is planned.

Commissioners Buy Roads Machinery

At a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners on August 14, bids were considered and awards made for road roller, paver and low boy trailer.

According to records in the Roads department office the roller was purchased for $8,720 from McClung Logan Equipment company of Baltimore; the Paver for $2,775, from Lutherville Supply; and the trailer for $8,225 from the McClung Logan company.

Thomas Sluss, county roads engineer, also announced that four mobile radio units had been purchased this week from the Radio Corporation of America for $673 each. These mobile units will be mounted on the pick-up trucks of the county roads foremen, Mr. Sluss said.

The board, on the 14th also considered additional pay for overtime worked by foremen, parts men and the assistant roads engineer. It was agreed that these men be compensated for all time over 40 hours at the present hourly wage.

In other board action the commissioners agreed to check the condition of the furnace at the jail, and that James E. Frantz, Sheriff, check sources of supply for purchase of 24 blankets and 24 mattresses.

The road to the Totten addition was to be improved. The board announced that salaries of clerks to the Board of Election supervisors, Geraldine Turney and Margaret DeWitt be raised $300 annually to $3,500.

August 7 Meeting

At a meeting on August 7 Harry Lesher registered an objection to the county purchasing machinery without bids. Dwight Stover, board attorney, informed Mr. Lesher that the Roads board had the right to purchase equipment and that purchases may be made without bids when necessary. Limit of such purchases are limited to $100,000 per year, he was informed.

There was a motion by Ross Sines to purchase a Dynahoe backhoe model A from Yoder and Frey auctioneering firm for $4,350; and one model H-60 Hough loader for $6,800, the equipment to become the property of the Roads department. It was seconded by Hubert A. Friend.

There was a motion by Mr. Friend that in the future any equipment or supplies to be purchased by the Commissioners that the entire board be present and any decision to be arrived at be approved by a majority of the board and that the roads engineer be present. This was seconded by Mr. Sines and made unanimous by Allen S. Paugh.

Mrs. Fannabel Hamilton and Aubrey Brenneman requested that the county take over the Arden May road. Commissioners said certain specifications must be met before the road could be accepted into the county system.

Mr. Paugh made a motion that the County Commissioners do not buy any more used machinery unless covered by a written guarantee. This was seconded by Mr. Friend with no vote by Mr. Sines.

Youth Charged In Jail Break Try

Allegany county authorities announced two 16-year-old youths would face charges for providing the hacksaw blades used last week in an attempted jail break.

Sheriff Paul Haberlein said his office had received information that the two youths on Sunday, July 23, passed three hacksaw blades to prisoners in the jail.

One youth purchased the blades in Cumberland July 23 and after dark went to the rear of the jail where the prisoners had dropped a line. The youth tied the blades to the line. Prisoners had been searched prior to being committed.

The jail break was foiled by authorities after receiving an "inside tip". One of the bars had been sawed in the area housing Charles Billy, 25, Pittsburgh. Two bars were cut in the cell of Gary L. Miller, 17, who is accused of slaying Judy Lee Ziegler, of Salisbury, Pa.

Both Miller and Billy were transferred to the Garrett County jail in Oakland the day before the attempted jail break was discovered.

The case against the two 16-year-olds will be discussed this week.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Ever notice how some people associate the joy of living with moments of care-free relaxation, while others seem to find equal happiness in both work and leisure?

Which seems most natural? Was man created with the capacity for finding happiness in his spare time only or was he endowed with a genius for reaping joy from both work and play?

Before anyone surrenders to the cynicism of the first theory, he owes it to himself, his neighbors and his God to give the second a real try.

For centuries the Church has been helping men to discover the deep and lasting joy of purposeful living. When your life has a purpose, linked to the Purpose of God . . . then every day reveals anew the joy of living!

Called To Obey

Lesson for August 27, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 21:1 through 23:11.
Devotional Reading: I Peter 4:12-19.

What is Christian courage? Some people seem to think it is the native ability to face danger and even death without fear. They assume that it is a rare gift given to the few, rather than the many.

Rev. Althouse

Perhaps there are some people who are largely free of fear and anxiety; naturally, their response to danger seems to be the very essence of Christian courage. Yet this is something to which all followers of Jesus Christ are called, not just a special elite. Christian courage is not really the same as freedom from fear.

Escape in Damascus

For example, we think of Paul as a man of exceptional Christian courage. Yet there were times when Paul did all he could to escape danger. In those early days just following his conversion on the Damascus road, Paul escaped hostile Jews in that city when he was lowered over the city wall in a basket. Nor was this the last time that Paul was willing to leave town swiftly in order to escape some danger. He did not always stay and face the mobs.

Why not? Where was his courage in these situations? Actually, Paul was little concerned with courage as such. What he wanted most of all was to be obedient to God's will, to do what he wanted him to do. Thus, he did not set out to do the brave thing, but the obedient thing. He wanted to bring his life into harmony with God's plan and purpose for his life.

Quite possibly, then, Paul chose to escape from Damascus and allowed himself to be secreted from other various towns in the face of danger, not because he was afraid — although he may have been — but because he believed that God did not intend for him to risk his life and mission at that time.

Up to Jerusalem

This was also evident in the ministry of Jesus himself. He did not needlessly jeopardize his work and risk his life. There were still places where he had to preach and teach, people yet to reach with the kingdom message. Even in the garden of Gethsemane Jesus did not seek martyrdom; his chief concern here was as it had always been: to obey God's will. Only when his Father's will became apparent to him as he prayed did he embrace the cross. Certain now that this was God's will for him, he could not be dissuaded.

Again we see this phenomenon evident in Paul's determination to go to Jerusalem. Though the dangers before him were very great, though the prospects of success were very low, yet Paul could not be persuaded this time to escape. He is certain that God wants him in Jerusalem, not to die, but to perform a task, even at the risk of death if necessary. He would not seek death in the Holy City, but neither would he shrink from it if his task made this inevitable.

Hard Enough!

"How wonderful of Paul," we think. "How brave he must have been!" Yet let us not be deceived into thinking that this was any less frightening for Paul than for us, nor did he have any assurance that we would not have. He is determined to go and do God's will, but his courage is not that strong that it is immune to the pleadings of his friends. Finally, he can stand it no more: "What are you doing, weeping and breaking my heart?" It is hard enough, he is saying, so don't make it worse.

At last his friends agree: "The will of the Lord be done." Note that they don't say "Do what you wish," or "Do what you think best." No, they are agreeing that he should do what God wants.

This is really what Christian courage is made of, not freedom from fear, not guaranteed safety, nor heedless bravery, but the desire to obey God, even to the point of death and beyond.

God does not demand fearlessness, but obedience.

County Has Classes For 275 In Self Help

Garrett County had classes in medical self-help for 275 students during fiscal year 1967.

Over 52,000 Maryland citizens were awarded certificates between July 1966 and June 1967, bringing the total in the state to almost 97,000. Public Health Service and Maryland Department of Health final reports for fiscal year 1967 show the job of teaching medical self-help techniques to civilians "well started". Over 4.7 million people across the Nation have been trained as part of the total civil defense effort to care for the sick and injured during a major disaster.

Visit To Expo 67 Is Recommended

The idea of a fraternal world, one united and peaceful, is what Expo 67, in Montreal, Canada, tries to convey to the millions of visitors who are seeing the area this summer.

Expo opened April 28 and its 700 shows and exhibits in the 65 or more pavilions will continue in operation for 183 days, concluding in October, and in that time more than twenty five million people will have visited the exposition.

Theme of the endeavor is "Man and His World", and every pavilion relates its presentation to the overall conception of man and his ideological, cultural and scientific relationship to his environment.

Man at his best—mankind in unity, encircling the world, is the hope of this display.

The wonder of Expo can't accurately be described. It can only be experienced. People continue to be awestruck by the endless beauty of it all.

Some of the sub themes are "Man, the Explorer, Man the Producer, Man the Creator, Man in the community, Man the provider".

Providing much of the splendor is photography with huge screens, revolving spheres, many types of cinematography, 360 degree scenery, movies bigger and better than they have ever been. Labyrinth and the telephone pavilion top them all, in our opinion. Basis of Labyrinth pavilion is conception of the legend of the minotaur, a monster within a Cretan labyrinth, finally slain by Theseus to free his people of the annual exaction of Athens' finest youth. The challenge to man here is to penetrate the mazes of his own civilization and confront the beast of his confusions and fears. Man must seek his salvation of adjustment and serenity within himself, visitors are shown.

The exposition is constructed on one thousand acres, on the peninsula and two islands in the St. Lawrence river. It took more earth to enlarge the islands than the pyramids of Egypt. An hour at each pavilion would occupy three full months. Those planning to visit all pavilions without stopping to watch any of the films unrolling in them, must go an average of six hours a day for 16 days. If a person wants to see all of film footage being shown he is already too late because he would have had to start on opening day and attend ten hours every day until closing October 21.

Every country has beautiful crafts. All people, from their exhibits, show an appreciation for beauty, art and the finer things of life. It makes many wonder why people cannot show the same type of appreciation for the people residing in those areas. They could if there were not greed for power, greed for land, greed for possessions.

An impelling message was the "Eighth Day" in the Christian pavilion. God created the world in six days, rested on the seventh and on the eighth day man took over. And it was shown how man in many ways had made a mess of what God has given us. Movies showed war, poverty, hate, greed, lawlessness, racial bigotry, but with the final solution being the acceptance of the teachings of Jesus Christ.

Transportation all over the islands was free. Bus service to the fair and subway service were excellent. Rest rooms were clean, children and people were polite. There was a minimum of tossing paper cups, etc., to the ground. Most of it went in the numerous trash cans. There was litte shoving; lines formed without confusion.

In our five days at the fair we managed to visit 45 of the 70 nation's pavilions. The exposition is having greater impact than the World's fair last year in New York. Canada is astonishing the world, and Montreal where it is being held is a magnificent and beautiful city.

A visit to Expo 67 is most highly recommended.

Seventeen Killed On State Highways

Seventeen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Four of those killed were drivers; five were passengers; and eight were pedestrians. Speed was a contributing factor in five of the deaths and "driver error" was present in eleven of the fatalities.

"Five of the persons killed on Maryland highways last week were youngsters under twelve years of age", commented Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police, "and in each case the child ran into the path of an approaching car.

"Some accidents of this type are impossible to avoid regardless of the amount of caution exercised by the driver. However, he should make every effort to anticipate the possibility of a child's darting into the path of the car, particularly in residential areas. Unfortunately, we will probably never be able to eliminate completely these tragic highway accidents, but the alertness of drivers can certanly reduce them substantially".

House voted 12.5 percent rise in social security benefits.

Review of The Play

Alexander Pope could well have been making reference to this week's production at the Garrett County Playhouse, when he wrote "A work where nothing's just or fit; One glaring chaos and wild heap of wit". The play is "See How They Run" by Phillip King, riotous, rollicking turmoil of 3 clergymen, a drunken spinster, a communistic fanatic, an American soldier, a maid, police sergeant and a vicar's wife.

Each and everyone becomes hopelessly involved in a dizzy bedlam of side-splitting lunacy, and remains so to the end. Flinging itself wildly into the air at the beginning, this comedy never returns to earth. From all sides, one hears that this is the best presentation of the season. One must admit that it is the most hilarious. Neil Flanagan plays the part of an American soldier in England. The jocund pandemonium erupts during his visit with an old friend and former theatrical associate, who has become the wife of a vicar. In the tangle of events, he loses his uniform, and almost his sanity. While dressed in the vicar's 2nd "best" suit Neil enters into the mirthful donnybrook with all the impart and rapidfire delivery that has made him so tremendously popular with playhouse audiences.

Kathy Gonder, the bewildered police-sergeant who tries to make heads or tails of the disordered situation, and determine which of a conglomeration of clergymen and pseudo-clergymen is the communistic subsersive.

In "See How They Run", each member of the cast pulls out all stops and scurries through his role as if the hounds were snapping at his heels.

James Libby, Milburn Mehlhop, and Philip Nicholson, all portray men of the cloth. As the frustrated vicar and husband James Libby is righteously outraged by the disorder in the vicarage. In a moment of complete loss of self-possession he rants about in his underwear, brandishing a poker.

Milburn Mehlhop, the autere bishop, is confounded by the unbelievable circumstances from the moment he enters the scene. After a valiant effort to retain self-control, he is overcome by the situation and enters bodily into the general state of confusion. Philip Nicholson portrays a mild-mannered churchman seeking shelter in the vicarage and finding a perplexing chase instead. With the rest, he becomes embroiled in the uproar.

As Miss Skillon, Susan Stoner, is either outstanding implishly or waddling about with rather agitated pelvic movements. After becoming disgustingly intoxicated, the little walking she is able to do is on her ankles. Most of the time, after reaching this state, she is dragged around like a sack of potatoes. In all probability Miss Skillon is responsible for a good deal of the muddle.

Danielle Pressly, who plays the ganky maid, Ida, may have started the whole bewildering thing by her inability to understand the peculiar situations she witnesses and the misplacing of the soldier's uniform.

Or could it have been Tom Hege, the wild-eyed communist, believing himself hounded by the police, who sets off the chain of events by clouting the vicar and filching his clothes.

Or perhaps Jean Sutherland, the Vicar's beautiful and turbulent wife could have instigated the fracas by becoming involved with the American soldier in the first place.

But who am I, Aza Stanton, yes, I said Aza Stanton, to say who did what to whom. Aza wrote this review ten years ago, when the Playhouse gave the same play. At that time, Leonard Drum, Bonnie Barton, Helen Camp and the former Principal of Southern High, Ken Johns were a few who played in this funny, funny show.

This is the last show of the 1967 season. The 13th season of the Playhouse ends with a bang, and also with regrets that this is the end, for this year. Words cannot express the feelings that the Garrett County Playhouse, Gene Yell and his wonderful cast, have made on this writer and others. They have made a cool summer, a hot, and certainly a most delightful one.

We say to Gene, Barbara and everyone, HURRY BACK. A great big GOOD LUCK to Neil Flanagan who goes into rehearsals for an Off-Broadway show "Fortune In Men's Eyes", next week. We hope to see him on Broadway soon.

OWNERS ARE ADVISED TO PROTECT THEIR CATS

Cats are noted for their hunting habits. They can track birds, rodents and smaller animals as silently as any jungle killer. Among their prey are also raccoons and foxes. Some victims are found in cities; almost all of them in suburban places. These victims are subject to rabies and if your cat exposes himself by coming in contact with a bird or animal having rabies it can catch rabies and transmit it to his owner. Rabies in cats may be just as dangerous as from dogs. Be safe. Protect your cat against rabies just as you do your dog. See a veterinarian.

Study Being Made On Fast Growing Trees By Institute

Western Maryland's forests may soon benefit from tree strains which grow faster than average trees. The possibility is based on measurements taken by Dr. John Genys, plant geneticist, during his two-week inspection of research plantations in Allegany and Garrett Counties. Some strains of the same species were found growing three times faster than others.

Dr. Genys, Associate Professor with the University of Maryland's Natural Resources Institute, assisted by Larry C. Kirby, recently visited area research plantations to collect data for detailed analysis. The work is part of a project undertaken by the Institute in cooperation with the Department of Forests and Parks to develop better quality strains of timber trees.

The trees for the study have been secured from regions throughout the northern hemisphere, some coming fron such distant countries as Japan, Russia, India and Korea. Fifteen species, including various pines, Douglas fir, black cherry, European and Japanese larch, spruces and poplars, are represented among the more than 300 varieties, strains and hybrids. Behavior and growth rates of these are being studied in detail in order to learn which strains would be most beneficial for western Maryland. In addition to growth rates and timber qualities, Dr. Genys will select strains that are resistant to the local diseases and insect pests.

Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, Director of the Natural Resources Institute, says that selection of superior tree strains can improve the area's forest resources as much as selection of the best agricultural strains has improved the productivity of farming. Dr. Cronin stated that the close observation of the trees is part of a continuing effort to improve the quality of Maryland's forest trees and will span a 50-year period.

Construction Man Is Electrocuted On Kingwood Roof

Neville M. Hindman, Jr., 26, of Kingwood, W. Va., was electrocuted last Wednesday afternoon, August 16, while working with an electric drill on the roof of a bowling alley in that town.

The victim was in the process of placing screws through the metal roof into wood when the incident occurred. There were no wires within four feet, according to Neil Reed, prosecuting attorney, who investigated along with the sheriff's office.

Mr. Hindman was working with fellow employes on the roof of the Kingwod Bowl-arama which is being remodeled by Robertson Construction company, headed by Willis Robertson, brother-in-law of the victim.

Appreciation

The lady from Frederick County stood fascinated as she heard about the tiny ground pine and gazed about her camping spot at the hemlocks which Mr. Shunk had wisely let grow in this native setting. Never had she seen these small remnants of pre-historic growth, and certainly had not examined the dainty hemlocks which grace our mountains as their native habitat.

Yet not a mile away, there was a young man who had spent his years in Garrett County, and when questioned about rhododendron blossoming this season, seemed abashed, as if not sure about what it was. "You know, big laurel", was the reminder given him, but even this didn't help his comprehension until someone pointed behind him and remarked, "That plant". Then he gave an evasive reply, indicating to his hearers that he really hadn't noticed much about the creamy masses evident in our county's moist forests.

Appreciation—what it is? Does it require so great an effort to delve into the worth of what is in plain sight or that we can sense in the emotions of other people? What factors cause the real gratefulness of one to whom you have given a lift, and a blind taking for granted on another's part? Early in life, some people learn to say thank you. Others never really learn the expression or its connotation. Perhaps we need to displace ourselves, really to transplant our thoughts to exactly those of another person, in order to sense what he sees in a plant or field or something which he has designed.

The works of creation are constantly ignored, perhaps as Americans try to hastily attain their goals of being ahead. Sometimes we may derive a lesson from the Chinese, who consider age as a sign of wisdom, truly appreciating the oldest patriarchs in the family as venerable. And in one section of Italy, it is customary for the wine drinker to return a few drops to the soil which gave the grapes, as a token of his gratitude, before he sips the liquid.

A blue and yellow worm on a shrub leaf would have caused a shudder from some, but the naturalist bent over it and calmly remarked how like an Indian design it was, with turquoise and gold. It recalled the lovely arch of these latter colors, seen in a Spanish misison in California, so to one onlooker there was a depth of appreciation. The old decaying log by a rock garden may bring aversion from the fastidious onlooker, who cannot bear a sight of breaking down or seeming ugliness. He who looks intently will discover the reddish decoration of "British Soldier" moss and learn its beauty.

How rich our lives become depends upon how many spheres we investigate well enough to learn that once understood, nearly every avenue of life deserves appreciation.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 91. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., AUGUST 31, 1967 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 27.

The Workers . . .

Labor Day, next Monday, September 4, is dedicated to all working Americans, since our entire economic system depends upon the reliability of the "laboring man and woman".

For this reason it is always pleasant to state again the importance of this major holiday that pays tribute to those who earn their living either by "sweat of the brow" or through intellectual pursuits.

Today, in this era of social reform, it is even of greater importance to stress this holiday as one dedicated to the living. It is time to remember our top priority to develop job opportunities for all through the regular channels of education, apprentice and other specialized training and through bootstrap assistance.

As Dwight D. Eisenhower, former president and retired general once said: "American working men are principals in the three-member team of capital, management, labor. Never have they regarded themselves as a service class that could attain freedom only through destruction of the industrial economy".

It is only through productive work that we can hope to attain ever-growing opportunities for all. Labor union leaders should remember this as they enter into negotiations with management leading to a new labor contract.

Two Awarded Eagle Badges In Ceremony

Presentation Made Monday At Meeting Of Lions Club

Two Boy Scouts of Oakland troop No. 31 were awarded Eagle badges Monday evening at ceremonies during a regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club.

The two boys, Anderson B. Cosby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson B. Cosby, III; and John C. Kerins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Regis Kerins, both of Oakland, were recently approved for advancement to the highest rank in scouting at an Eagle Board of Review in Oakland the latter part of May.

In addition to the 21 merit badges required for Eagle, the recipients of the Eagle award must also have indicated a satisfactory record in school, church and community activities while engaged in scouting. One of the final projects of the two boys was the cleaning up of the McCarty cemetery just west of town, which took several weeks.

Kerins' badge was presented to his mother, since the youth is employed at present in Connecticut and could not be here for the meeting.

The presentations were in charge of George H. Hanst, advancement chairman for the Deep Creek District, and assisting was Ralph Fauber, former scoutmaster of troop 31. Eagle scout certificates from the National council were given to the boys and miniature Eagle pins were presented to the mothers.

The addition of the two new Eagles makes the 30th, 31th who have gained that rank in the district since the formation of the Oakland troop in 1924. Previous Eagles have been B. I. Gonder, Jr., Thomas A. Gonder, James A. Lee, McClelland Dixon, Kenneth Stahl, Robert Stemple, George Altstetter, Guy Gregg, 1925 or 1926; Ward Hinebaugh, 1930; Harley Dawson, 1931; Kenneth Lawton, 1933; Horace O'Donnell, Hopwood Wooddell, Charles Mason, Howard Naylor, Robert Lawton, 1934; Robert B. Sincell, 1941; Richard Leighton, 1946; David Gonder, 1958; Richard Stuck, Foster Riggs II, Maurice Brookhart, Jr., 1959; Thomas Foreman, Carl Pelton, 1959; John Fitzwater, 1961; Frank Fitzwater, 1963; David Sisler, 1964; James Feaster III, 1966; John O. Improvement of Old Deer Park Road Is Started Workmen began this week to clear the right of way for the improvement of about a mile of the Old Deer Park road, from U. S. 219, at the Hawkinson Tread Service, to the Oakland city line toward the east.

During the past few weeks utility companies have replaced necessary pipes and lines.

After the right of way is cleared the improvement will begin. The project is expected to be completed by the first of November, it was stated by William Goldsborough, state roads engineer for this district. Work is being done by the Phoenix Construction company.

He also announced that the contract for the new bridge over the Little Youghiogheny river on South Third street, had been awarded to the George F. Hazelwood company, and that work of replacement would begin there very shortly.

Another improvement in the area will be the brick facing that will be applied to the telephone exchange building on the corner of Sixth and Oak streets.

Art Exhibit To Include 30 Pieces

The traveling exhibition of the works of Maryland artists, under auspices of the Maryland Arts Council, which will be in Oakland in September will consist of thirty pieces, five sculptures and twenty-five paintings and graphics.

The character of the exhibition ranges from the traditional Edward Hopper-like "Obiit," to the abstraction of "Quiet Night" and "Blue Box" to the graphic surrealism of "Child's Play." The media used by the artists are indicative of the constant search for new forms of expression: oak, soot, collage, acrylic polymer, graphite and welded steel in addition to the traditional oil, watercolor and etching.

Of the 30 pieces in the show, 23 are available for sale for delivery at the end of the tour.

Eight were killed when oil tanks exploded in Montreal.

100 Pints Blood Sought Wednesday

The American Red Cross bloodmobile unit from Johnstown, Pa., will be in Oakland at the Oakland fire hall, on Wednesday, September 6, from 12 o'clock noon until 6 p. m., it was announced last week. The usual quota of 100 pints is being sought.

Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, publicity chairman for the Garrett county Red Cross chapter, pointed out that the Red Cross was constantly in need of blood to meet the growing demands. She said when blood is needed it usually is needed at once—the right type, at the right place, and at the right time.

She declared, "If one is lucky a person never needs blood and it is our hope that such luck never changes, but a lot of people's luck changes every day". She asked that each citizen consider it not only a duty but a privilege to aid this worthy cause.

The usual workers, nurses and doctors will be on hand to help in this program.

Guilty of Assault

Martin McKenzie entered pleas of not guilty at a hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney on Monday, August 28.

The charges were preferred by Hobart Shillingburg, Oakland city policeman, and concerned assault on the officer and being drunk and disorderly.

In one other case before the magistrate Nellie Ford was charged by Pauline Upole with assault and battery upon her at Crellin on August 19. At a hearing before Magistrate Maroney on August 22 the woman prayed a jury trial, which will be heard in the circuit court.

Steve Wood Is New Golf Champ

Tournament Held On Rain Soaked Country Club Course

Putting together rounds of 72 and 73 over the par 70 course on Sunday, Steve Wood, of Morgantown, West Virginia University student, emerged the winner of the fifth annual Western Maryland Amateur Championship Golf Tournament at the Oakland Country Club with a 290 for the three-day rain-soaked 72-hole event.

Wood, who led the field on opening day, Friday, with a one-under par 69, and shot a 72 on Saturday braved a drenching downpour Sunday and won the championship by the margin of four strokes over Jarry Ware, of Philippi whose total was 72-72-76-74—294.

Wood's 290 was the best 72-hole score in the tournament's history and bettered the previous low of 291, established by Joseph "Pepper" Inskeep, of Keyser, in 1964.

Gonder Finishes Third

Lindsay Gonder, of Oakland, who captured the first tournament in 1963, finished in third place with a card of 72-74-73-78—297.

Jack Forbes, Morgantown, who turned in the lowest score of 70 for the day on the last 18 holes, wound up in fourth place with a 77-80-72-70—299.

Geo. McLaughlin Options 1st Nat'l Bank Building

George McLaughlin, certified public accountant in Oakland and Elkins, has secured an option for the purchase of the old First National Bank building, corner of Second and Alder streets, it was learned this week.

Mr. McLaughlin said he expected to complete the purchase when the necessary papers have been arranged which might be a week and might be longer.

His future plans call for moving his office to the former board room and loan office area, while the balance of the downstairs will be leased to the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company of Maryland. He also plans to install an elevator and make the third floor available for office space. It was learned that at one time there was an elevator in the building and that the elevator shaft is stil there, although closed off for many years.

The consideration was not announced.

His nearest rival on nearby Lake St. Louis was Ralph Manee, of Staten Island, N. Y., who had 35 points. Third was Kent Foster, Cincinnati, with 36 points.

Douglass, designer of the Flying Scot class vessel, a 19-foot sloop, has won the championships five times in the last nine years.

Fourth in the championship division was Jim Smith, Grosse Point, Mich., with 37 points, and fifth was Fred Tears, Dallas, Tex., also with 37.

Constitutional Convention Posts Include Grant

The list of chairmen and members of the eleven committees that will function during the conclave which gets under way in Annapolis on September 12, to re-write the Maryland constitution, were announced over the week-end by H. Vernon Eney, president of the Constitutional Convention.

William W. Grant, Oakland attorney, who was elected to represent Garrett county at the recent special election, was named to the important committee on Local Government. Mr. Grant also was named as Western Maryland representative on the Rules committee.

The names of all persons involved appeared in the Sunday issue of the Baltimore Sun.

Chairmen of all but two of the committees are well known attorneys who, among them, represent a wide range of political and social thinking. Another is a homemaker and economist and the eleventh is a college professor.

Eight of the committees will each be concerned with a different article of the draft of a new state constitution. One will be concerned with style — the actual wording the articles; another with the day-by-day agenda of the three or four month convention; and still another with rules of procedure and the convention's budget.

Mr. Eney and the two vice presidents — Senator James Clark, and William S. James, president of the Maryland Senate, both Democrats, will sit on various committees as liaison men.

Each committee will name a vice chairman when it organizes in the State House at Annapolis next month. The committees include Personal Rights and the Preamble, Suffrage and Elections, Legislative branch, Executive branch, Judicial branch, local government, state finance and taxation; Style, Drafting, Arrangement; Calendar and Agenda.

H. T. Oursler, Oakland, Named Foreman Of Grand Jury

Grand and petit jurors for the September term of court in this county were selected Monday morning by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, in the presence of attorneys and court house officials.

The list was drawn in accordance with provisions of Chapter 374, Acts of the Assembly of Maryland and was drawn by number from a list of 150 names of citizens. A certain percentage had been taken from the registration books from each voting district and placed in a box, and numbers drawn.

Howard Taft Oursler, Oakland, was selected by Judge Hamill to be foreman of the grand jury which will convene on Monday, September 11, at 10 o'clock. But a change in the law was made at the last session of the legislature, and women now have the same responsibility to serve as the men and may be excused only for a valid reason.

Alison, Ruth Hetrick, Fred Richard Harvey, John H. Bowman, Harry R. Weimer, Catharine S. Barrick, Paul W. Hinebaugh, James Edward Tasker, Wilmer W. Margroff, Dennis Walter Margroff, John H. DeLoach, Robert O. Glotfelty, Vonda J. McIntire, Wade Bernard, Kenneth R. Reckart.

Sixteen Are Killed On State Highways

Again last week persons travelling on Maryland highways suffered heavily as a result of their own thoughtlessness and inattention, as well as that of their fellow motorists. The cost in human life was measured at sixteen; the cost in human suffering to those who were injured is practically immeasurable.

According to Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police, "Many of these terrible accidents were caused by the operator's failing to adjust to the unusual weather conditions which prevailed during the past week.

"It is a basic principle that automobiles just won't stop as quickly or safely on wet roads as they will on dry roads. It is very difficult to get adequate traction on wet roads and cars have a tendency to hydroplane, or skim, across the surface of the highway".

Lt. Col. Davidson concluded: "Under these conditions tailgating, or following the car ahead too closely, contributes to unsafe driving. It is a dangerous practice at any time and one of the primary cause of accidents nationwide. Obviously it is even more hazardous when the weather conditions are not good".

Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the fatalities, speed in ten, and "driver error" in thirteen.

During the past week seven drivers, five passengers, and four pedestrians were killed on Maryland highways.

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

No Place For Drones

The peril of a drone society subsidized by productive, tax-paying citizens, is a peril the Congress and the people always should bear in mind.

Happily, U. S. Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is both aware of the peril and outspoken in warning the public about it.

Opening the debate in the House August 17 on a proposed increase in social security benefits, Congressman Mills strongly defended his committee's plan to tighten regulations on federal financial assistance to programs for aiding parents with dependent children.

"The American people", he declared, "want us to be certain that money is spent under this legislation to promote the public well-being. Is it in the public interest for welfare to become a way of life?"

Many Americans may not realize that welfare is a way of life to one element in our population. Rep. Mills pointed out that "we are caring for the third consecutive generation" of reliefers. Obviously, this kind of dependence has to be stopped.

In an effort to curb such welfare careerism, Congressman Mills' committee wants the states to meet certain requirements by creating work and training programs so that unemployed parents must submit to a test of their ability to hold down a job.

If the Congress does not start requiring welfare recipients to take available jobs, public resentment is bound to mushroom. As Rep. Mills expressed it, "Some day there is going to be a revolution or a riot if the taxpayers can ever get organized. If ever I heard a good argument against a tax increase it is that giveaway programs be pared to the bone".

Congressman Mills' comments are refreshing and timely, especially in view of the outpouring of liberal demands for additional welfare programs for residents of urban "ghettos". The liberal rhetoric is interesting and revealing. It is full of insistance on government's obligation to create jobs for riotous slum-dwellers, but there is no mention of the so-called "disadvantaged" citizen's duty to take a job when it is offered.

People who have followed development of the government anti-poverty programs are aware of the fact that these federal projects often are involved in training people with a powerful disinclination to work. It frequently happens that the recipient of government aid gets off one program only to ask to be placed on another program. For many of them, a job is the last thing they want.

Actually, much of the talk about a job shortage is sheer nonsense. The classified advertising pages of American newspapers contain innumerable job descriptions. Yet many of those who are loitering on street corners in the mornings and evenings aren't interested in these employment opportunities. They are the people U. S. Sen. Byrd of West Virginia recently described as unwilling to "hit a lick at a snake".

Yet if Big Government is to give handouts to some citizens, those citizens should be required to take whatever employment is available. They shouldn't be allowed to wait around for the job that involves the bare minimum of effort.

In Western Europe, migrants from Greece, Spain, Portugal, Italy and other comparatively poor countries travel to the industrial cities of Germany and France to seek employment. They take what is available, which generally is hard, heavy work. They don't complain, however, or say that the host countries have a social obligation to put an economic cushion under them.

Unfortunately, this attitude does not prevail among the migrants to American cities. Sociologists, politically - minded preachers and liberal editors have spent more than a decade telling these migrants that Society owes them a living. It is not surprising, therefore, that the United States has a new class of idlers, who believe that idlness at public expense is a civil right.

Congress and the taxpaying public will have to work overtime and talk tough to get this notion out of the minds of the would-be drones.

Question

How did the word "element" come into our language?

Answer

I think you'll find the answer to your question a rather interesting one. The Romans began their alphabet with the letter "L." Instead of learning their A, B, Cs, as the children in this country learn their alphabet, the Romans learned their L, M, Ns. The Latin word "elementum" originated from this usage, and it meant first principle. The Romans believed that fire, air, earth and water were the basic elements of the world. Our word "element" has come down to us as a result of this ancient misinformation.

More State Aid For Jr. Colleges Is Given Backing

The State Board of Education passed a resolution yesterday supporting a request of the Maryland Council of Community College Presidents for increased state aid of about $4 million a year.

The board reaffirmed its previous public support of a proposed doubling of state aid for operating costs, increased capital improvements and free tuition for teacher education students at the colleges.

The board also approved a proposed $18,381,600 operating budget for the State Department of Education, up 51 percent over this year, and recommended that the Board of Public Works grant $2,501,595 in construction loans in three community colleges.

There was some disagreement among college presidents on how to change the state aid formula which now pays one-third of the operating costs or not more than $300 per student. The remaining costs are now shared equally by the local subdivision and the students.

President of Catonsville Community college, said the state should be required to pay 50 percent of the operating costs, which would amount to $600 per student on a base of $1,200.

Another president suggested a $1,500 base would be more realistic since receipts per equivalent fulltime student would probably reach that average within a year or two.

"If our students would have to pay $500 tuition, $50 in fees, $100 for books, plus transportation and other items", one said, "They would have to work 40 hours a week and we would have more dropouts than we have now.

The president's program also called for increasing the state's share of capital expenditures for community colleges from the current 50 percent to 75 percent, and free tuition for students who pledge to teach in the state after completing their education.

The tuition proposal would cost an estimated $8880,000. It was also recommended that the state support a $14,000 to $18,000 salary base for presidents as it does for school superintendents.

Back Garrett Loan

The budget request does not include state aid to local school systems. The budget approved included $98,000 for establishing a division of community college coordination and development within the Department of Education. It would be headed by an associate superintendent with a staff of six.

The loans recommended for approval by the board included $812,500 for the Garrett County Community college.

Precedent To Be Feared

The editor of the Asheville, North Carolina, Citizen has reported one of the most disturbing federal business expansions that has come along yet. It seems that the Office of Economic Opportunity has provided a grant of $179,000 to Community Action, Inc., of Boone, N. C., to publish a weekly newspaper and distribute its free to everybody in four counties "... including those who can't read". Weekly newspapers in the area already cover community news. The official objection is that not enough people subscribe to them and read them.

The Asheville Citizen comments that, "If the OEO can publish a weekly newspaper in Northwest North Carolina..... Washington can ... develop - - gradually, insidiously - - a federal press, financed by taxpayers' money and telling the American people only what it wants them to hear. That is not likely? No, it is not likely. It is still possible. That is the prime tactic of dictatorship, with a controlled press the main tool". This is an intolerable precedent in a nation where individual liberty depends to such a great extent upon the independence and freedom of expression of thousands of weekly and daily newspapers. Their role as the public conscience and watchdog of goverment is absolutely irreplaceable.

NOTE: The above article, "Precedent to be Feared", appeared in the Industrial News Review of 7-10-67. It described an accomplished invasion by federal bureaucracy of one of the strongest safeguards of freedom —the free and independent press. Now, following a storm of protest, the action to establish a "federal newpaper" has been reversed. Congress has stipulated that poverty funds may not be used "for establishing or operating a general coverage newspaper, magazine, radio station or television station".

The voices of the press and the people still carry some weight when the issue directly touches fundamental principles of individual freedom. This is good news indeed. —Industrial News Review.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

"People always have been and they always will be stupid victims of deceit and self-deception in politics. . ."
—Nikolai Lenin

Published reports on Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin's visit with Fidel Castro in Havana, Cuba, give dramatic evidence of the incredible success of Russia's propaganda conquest of U. S. policy-makers and a large part of the American press. One of the biggest-circulation news weeklies in America, recognized in the past for its cold-eyed appraisal of the duplicity of World Communism, pictured the Soviet boss as a "dove" wanting to halt Cuba's exporting of guerrilla warfare and revolution into Latin America, and Castro as refusing.

"Most reports indicate that the Russians and Cubans found virtually no common ground", said this influential news magazine. Then this astonishing remark was made: "The Russians are described as being wary of violence in Latin America. They prefer helping Communist parties become respectable". This reporting is in character with much of the journalism being published throughout America. It is a true echo of what our Government leaders are saying today. This "good, respectable" image for Soviet Communism is the image on which our foreign policy is based. Is it a true or a false image? And what are the dangers involved if it is false?

I believe the image of a changed, trustworthy Soviet Communism as the basis for our foreign policy is dangerous and could be disastorous. For the next several weeks we shall devote ourselves to reporting results of considerable reportorial research into the facts of the "Great Deception" through which our Government leaders, the American wire services, the TV networks, and other important news outlets seem to have been bewitched.

I have the sworn word of one of the most respected men in international life that the U. S. State Department does not want Communist Cuba mentioned adversely — because it riles up the American people, and any overt action against Cuba would be contrary to U. S. commitments and would disturb our "good" relationship with the Soviet bosses. Our National Education Program staff has gathered voluminous sworn testimony from recognized authorities convincing any logical mind that Cuba is in fact not a harmless Castro-controlled and deteriorating island in the peaceful Caribbean but a constantly expanding fortress of World Communism, bristling with Soviet armaments, submarine bases, subterranean missile complexes, and operated as a Soviet outpost, under rigid Russian control, decisively strategic in Soviet plans for conquering the Western hemisphere.

There is testimony (of authentic character) describing Russian missiles now in Cuba which measure 60-feet, the size of the IRBM 1500-mile missiles which Russia installed in Cuba in 1962 (then, reportedly, removed) and new missiles approximately 150 feet long—possibly the biggest Soviet ICBM's on which Russia has been developing multiple heads capable of instantaneous deployment, through cluster firings, all over a nation. The truth about Cuba constitutes a dramatic denial of the fiction on which much of our foreign policy is based. It spotlights the great deception which seems to have victimized our leaders and now is endangering our survival.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Route 1, Box 32
Oakland, Md. 21550
Aug. 29, 1967

Dear Mr. Editor:

Much has been printed lately concerning the schools and the teacher salaries. Not all of this is fair, as evidenced by the fact that a goodly number of Oakland's finest teachers will be with us this season.

We all know that it is no small job to handle personnel placement and we all hate to lose a good employee no matter what the business. Our sympathies and apologies are offered those responsible for filling the vacancies.

However, we all know that not all teachers who left did so for lack of pay increases. When an employee is unhappy, no amount of money will keep him happy and it is wise to let him go—some years more than others. The public is aware that some of our teachers are making more than they did in neighbor states. And we would like the teachers to become aware that most of them make more than the men in other businesses here.

A point of interest is that most of the school districts in the state of California voted to begin teachers at $4,500 a year and their increases are granted only if they go to extra courses and keep abreast with times. For most teachers this means summer school. The teachers like the system and consider it fair. Of course, in areas of population explosion where students attend classes for only half days and teachers teach two shifts, the pay is higher. These people also find that they are assessed for sidewalks repaired or replaced, extra public utilities to accommodate the influx of population and always city bonds and increased city income tax to cover something. This among other excessive costs of living.

Our teachers know that no matter where one lives in U. S. A., only a few will have enough salary income to supply luxuries. Our travelers soon learn to size up a community. Oakland shows little sign of exceptional prosperity and most of the city's men know that if they expect any increase they will work very hard for it and many know they cannot expect any further increase. Many of these are college men and women. Such was the case in California when the teachers and boards voted the higher education system of increases. And this is why California schools rate high—not because the teachers make above average incomes. Of course, systems differ everywhere, but where is there a community where any one trade is so upheld that their employees command salaries way above community level. Since I have become a door-to-door representative I have noted that our teachers occupy some of the best homes in our community. In California this was not the case when we lived there. And yet much is said in praise of the California schools. There is an old story about the man who looked for gold and travelled far to find it. When he returned home broke, the gold was discovered in his own backyard. Thank you.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Ruby Poulin
